FBI Nabs Gunman As Member of Gang Who Robbed Brink's

BOSTON (AP)—Joseph J. "Specs" O'Keefe, 44-year-old Boston gunman has been nabbed by the FBI as one of the masked men who robbed the Brink's Boston headquarters of $1,219,000 on the night of Jan. 17, 1950.

O'Keefe was named in affidavits filed by the FBI with the Federal Court in Boston.

The affidavits became available to newsmen late yesterday as O'Keefe fought a contempt of court charge resulting from his refusal to answer pertinent questions before a grand jury hearing evidence in the fabulous stickup.

One of the affidavits, signed by John B. Greene, a special agent of the FBI who heads the Brink's investigation, says that he "has reason to believe that Joseph J. O'Keefe was one of the participants in the robbery."

A second affidavit says that $60,000 in Brink's loot was hidden in a house occupied by O'Keefe's sister, Mrs. Mary A. Hooley, 37.

Money Transferred

A third affidavit sets forth that on July 19, 1950, the $60,000 was transferred to the home of a Mary O'Keefe, identified as Joseph O'Keefe's wife.

A fourth affidavit tells of an alleged telephone conversation between O'Keefe, then serving 90 days in a Pennsylvania jail, for carrying weapons in his car, and Mary O'Keefe.

Agent Greene says in the paper. "He (O'Keefe) asked his wife whether or not she had been interviewed by federal enforcement officials and she said she had."

"He asked whether or not anything was found, and she answered: 'No,' and later he told her: 'Just take good care of the baby. You know what I mean.'"

Have No Baby

Federal authorities said there is no O'Keefe baby.

One of the affidavits asserts that the $60,000 of alleged Brink's loot was hidden in an "overstuffed baby stationary chair and footstool or in a leather zippered overnight bag" in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hooley, O'Keefe's sister and brother-in-law.

Mrs. Hooley earlier this week was given a one-year sentence for contempt of court after she refused to answer before the grand jury the question:

"Did you ever at any time see $70,000 in cash?"

Her husband also is charged with contempt of court for refusing to talk before the grand jury.

O'Keefe's contempt of court case has not yet been completed and Hooley's contempt case has been continued to next Monday. Hooley and his wife, who appealed the one-year sentence, are free on bail.

Cost Of Living At Record Level

WASHINGTON (AP)—The cost of living as measured by the government crept up two-tenths of a point last month to equal the record high reached last August.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics, announcing its measuring as of Nov. 15, said today higher home rents were mainly responsible for the increase in its index.

The slight rise was not enough to prevent the nation's rail workers from taking a one-cent cut in their hourly wages.

The wages of about 1 1/4 million railroad workers are tied by union contracts to the BLS index. They had received two cents an hour increase in the last adjustment.

The new Consumer's Price Index, measuring Nov. 15 prices of food, clothing, rent, medical care, entertainment and a host of other things, stood at 191.1 per cent of the 1935-1939 base period.

The record high, reached last August, was also 191.1.

HELD IN BERLIN SECRET DOCUMENT CASE—Michael R. Rothkrug (left), 44-year-old American citizen and former American intelligence officer, is handcuffed by a GI guard in Berlin, where U. S. Army authorities disclosed his arrest. U. S. spokesmen said that Rothkrug, from Westport, Conn., had in his possession enough secret documents to jeopardize its entire network of informants in East Germany. The authorities said the missing documents were found in the German textile office operated by Rothkrug and a German partner.

Even $50 Neckties In Demand

Stores Bulge With Christmas Shoppers; Record Sales Seen

NEW YORK (AP)—Christmas business is so good, says a Charlotte, N. C., merchant, that he even has a brisk demand for $50 neckties. They are made of velvet, woven with pure gold.

Denver's three biggest department stores agree that yule business is "substantially heavier" than last year and will set new records.

In Chicago, President Joel Goldblatt of Goldblatt Brothers Inc., reports:

"We're running 10 per cent ahead right now. If it keeps up it will be the biggest Christmas business in our history."

These enthusiastic comments are typical of others obtained in an Associated Press survey of Christmas shopping trends in 24 cities.

Parking Lots Jammed

From coast to coast it's pretty much the same story: stores bulging with shoppers, downtown parking lots jammed, holiday buyers spending more money.

The one big exception is New York. John Raasch, president of Wanamaker's New York store, reports sales running behind last year. "And I doubt if we'll pick up what we've lost," he blames transportation difficulties, competition of convenient suburban shopping centers and—most of all—the city sales tax of three cents on the dollar.

All Wanamaker stores outside New York expect to better last year's volume.

Two universal complaints in the country at large are lack of parking facilities for shoppers and a shortage of trained sales help.

Net Farm Income Dipping, Club Told

The American Farmer's expenses are rising but his net income is dipping, Floyd Lower, Columbiana County extension agent, told Kiwanis Club members Thursday noon at the Memorial Building.

Mr. Lower said 61 per cent of the farmer's total income now is paid out in expenses, a jump of 11 per cent over the 50 per cent figure in 1946. He predicted farm prices would level off in 1953 but the farmer's purchases would cost more.

Mr. Lower spoke on the topic, "The Agricultural Outlook for 1953 As It Affects the Consumer."

Yuletide Mail Sets Record Here This Time

98,440 Letters Top Day's Cancellation; Office Open Sunday

Christmas mail cancellations have set a new record at the Salem Postoffice this season.

The peak was reached Wednesday when a record 98,440 pieces of mail were handled. This did not include parcel post. The record for the best single day a year ago was 86,470.

Letter cancellations dropped to 55,000 Thursday. Superintendent of Mails Ray Reasbeck reported. The figure for Monday was 61,740 and Tuesday, 66,380.

Postoffice Open Sunday

The postoffice will be open Sunday afternoon from 1 to 5 p.m. to dispatch mail and parcel post. Carriers also will cover their routes Sunday.

Rural routes are being covered once a day by substitutes, with the regular carriers remaining in the postoffice to sort mail.

Fifty-one extra employees have aided the regular clerks and carriers this season. Parcel post has been greater this year than here-tofore, postal officials said. Mail is being sorted on a round-the-clock basis.

City deliveries are being made three times a day to speed the flow of Christmas cards.

The postoffice will be open all day Saturday and on Sunday afternoon, is the reminder.

Potters Being Paid Christmastime Raise

Four hundred and fifty Salem China Co. workers today shared in the five per cent wage increase which was agreed upon in October by the United States Pottery Association and the Brotherhood of Operative Potters.

The local potters are part of an estimated 8,000 ceramic workers in the district to benefit from the pay increases at Christmas time.

The five per cent raise was agreed upon at a union-industry wage conference in mid-October, with the stipulation that it would be paid for the first time in the last pay period before the holiday.

At the time, it was estimated the new rate would mean eight cents an hour on the average, although the figure varies widely according to the worker's previous scale.

At the time the raise was agreed upon, a manufacturers' spokesman estimated it meant an additional annual payroll cost of $2 1/2 to $3 million for the American pottery industry.

Woman Driver Fined On Patrol Charge

Mrs. Dorothea Wright, 40, of 998 S. Union Ave., was fined $10 and costs Thursday by Mayor Harry M. Vincent on a charge of driving left of center.

She was cited by Salem State Highway Patrolmen Dec. 4, following a traffic mishap which occurred on Route 14, just east of Salem.

Ohio Senators To Take Hand In Job Patronage

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ohio's two senators have let it be known they intend to have a major hand in determining who gets important federal jobs in Ohio under the new Republican administration. Letters have gone out from Sens.

Robert A. Taft and John Bricker to GOP county chairmen, outlining the procedure for handling applications for federal jobs.

The offices of Ohio Republican congressmen have been deluged with requests for jobs from rank-and-file party members in the state.

Taft and Bricker said in their joint letters that all applications must first be presented for approval to the respective Republican county committees.

They added: "Applications and recommendations for positions involving a district larger than a county, such as federal judgeships, United States marshals, United States attorney, etc., should be made directly to the county committee."

They continued, "If there is no Republican congressman, application should be made to us, but will be submitted for approval to the Republican National Committee—Rep. Clarence Brown, Katharine Kennedy Brown, and Ray Bliss."

The two Browns have been Ohio Republican national committeeman and committeewoman, respectively, for quite some time.

Bliss, chairman of the Republican State Central committee, now serves on the national committee under revised rules adopted at the July national GOP convention.

The Ohio senators told the county chairmen they "reserve the right to make recommendations to positions having only local or county significance" in Hamilton County, Taft's home, and Franklin County, Bricker's residence.

But they added the assurance that "a satisfactory working arrangement" will be worked out with the House members involved—Reps. John M. Vorya, William E. Hess and Gordon H. Scherer.

I. Jack Martin, Taft's administration assistant, and Robert W. Minor, who holds a comparable post with Bricker, were delegated to handle "matters relating to appointments" for the two senators.

Deputies were unable to determine who drove the panel truck. Eaclos told deputies he was driving his steel-laden truck west when he noticed the panel truck approaching him, partway across the center line. He said he swerved to the right but could not avoid colliding almost head-on with the other vehicle.

The panel truck was completely demolished and considerable damage was caused to the front end of the truck-trailer. The eastbound lane was blocked for some time before deputies managed to clear the road of wreckage.

The two deaths this morning constitute the 66th and 67th Stark County traffic fatalities recorded this year.

3 Republicans, 1 Dem Picked As Aides To Wilson

Ike Faces Explosive Decision On Whether To Let Controls Die

NEW YORK (AP)—President-elect Eisenhower today announced his selections of the civilians who will head the armed services under Charles E. Wilson, secretary of defense designate.

They are: Deputy secretary of defense—Roger M. Kyes, 46, of Bloomfield Hills, Mich., a vice president of General Motors.

Secretary of the Army—Robert Ten Broeck Stevens, 53, of South Plainfield, N. J., a director of the General Electric Corp., General Foods and Jackson Mills, and chairman of the board of J. P. Stevens and Co., textile manufacturer.

Secretary of the Navy—Robert Bernard Anderson, 42, of Vernon, Tex., a director and deputy chairman of the board of directors of the Federal Reserve Bank at Dallas, Tex.

Secretary of the Air Force—Harold L. Talbott, 44, of New York, chairman of the board of the North American Aviation Co., and a member of the Chrysler Corp. Finance Committee.

Active In Campaign

Talbott was active as an advisor and fund-raiser during Eisenhower's presidential campaign. The others selected today had not figured in the campaign limelight on a national scale. All the designations must be approved by the Senate.

James C. Hagerty, Eisenhower's press secretary, announced the appointments.

He said they were decided upon after a series of conferences between Eisenhower and Wilson aboard the cruiser Helena while they were returning from Korea.

Hagerty's office said Anderson is a Democrat who described himself during the campaign as a "Democrat for Eisenhower." The other three men designated today are Republicans.

Anderson is the third Democrat chosen by Eisenhower for a key position in the Republican administration that will take office Jan. 20.

The others are Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, Houston, Tex., editor and publisher, who will be federal security administrator, and Martin P. Durkin, of Chicago and Washington, AFL Plumbing Union president.

Taft Is Candidate For Senate Leader

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio announced today he will be a candidate for floor leader in the new Republican-controlled Senate starting Jan. 3.

Taft's statement, issued through his office here, said he reached his decision after assurances from Sen. Bridges (R-MH) that he desires to be temporary president of the Senate rather than floor leader and from Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) that he does not intend to be a candidate for floor leader.

Bridges and Knowland were the two other senators who had figured most prominently in the discussion of a Republican floor leader, and Taft's statement would indicate he will be elected to the post by his Republican colleagues in the Senate.

Anti-Filibuster Strategy Told

Senators Seek To Put Limit On Debate

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators trying to figure out how to smash filibusters are considering strategy that could throw the opening session of the new Senate on Jan. 3 into an uproar.

Behind their efforts is a desire to clear the way for civil rights measures. They hope to deprive opponents of their most trusted weapon, the filibuster, which can be used to talk legislation to death.

A leader in the move, Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.), said today Republican and Democratic senators who favor making it easier to shut off debate have been invited to confer here Dec. 30.

Humphrey told a reporter that one course of action under study is to move at the start of the session for the adoption of new Senate rules—a maneuver aimed at eliminating Rule 22.

Under Rule 22, a bill can be called to a filibuster only by the votes of 64 senators, or two-thirds of the entire membership. Opponents contend it is almost impossible to apply.

What's more, Rule 22 provides that no debate limitation whatever shall apply to proposals to change the rules—so that any move to change it can be talked to death.

Tentative opening-day strategy outlined by Humphrey to cope with this roadblock to civil rights and other legislation involves some fast parliamentary footwork.

Here's what Humphrey expects would happen if the plan were put into execution:

At the outset of the session a motion would be made to adopt new Senate rules; the vice president, who is Senate presiding officer, probably would rule that the motion was out of order, relying on all past precedents that the Senate, because only a third of its membership changes at one time, is a continuing body and so already has its rules.

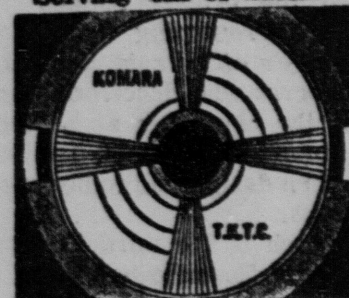

An appeal would be taken from the ruling of the vice president; only a majority vote is necessary to overturn such a ruling and Humphrey is hopeful that the necessary votes could be obtained.

If the vice president were overruled, the effect would be to leave the Senate without any rules.

Humphrey said in the case ordinary parliamentary rules would apply and any senators attempting to filibuster against the adoption of new rules no longer would have the protection of Rule 22.

When William Penn founded Pennsylvania, the death penalty was provided in the laws of the colony only for willful murder, compared with 200 offenses punished by death in England at that time.

Acheson Must Decide If To Fire Vincent

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Acheson returns today from Paris to confront a difficult decision: Whether to fire career Diplomat John Carter Vincent as recommended by the Loyalty Review Board.

Officials said Acheson might seek an immediate preliminary conference with President Truman but that any decision on the issue may be put off pending further study.

The board, top loyalty tribunal in the government, has found there is reasonable doubt as to Vincent's loyalty.

Digging Citizens Find Break In Water Main

CROOKSVILLE, O. (AP)—Mayor Harold Anderson turned on the faucet in his home today and water came pouring out for the first time since Tuesday.

The rupture in the city's water main was found before midnight after residents had spent more than 24 hours digging and looking for the break.

"We had an awful job of it," Anderson said.

He said the break was covered by 12 feet of "chuck," broken pottery used for fill. This porous fill allowed the water to seep through the ground without rising to the surface.

Some 750 homes were without water. Families hauled water in buckets and pails from nearby Roseville.

The mayor said he did not know what caused the break.

He said some of the industries would probably remain closed until the city's water supply was normal.

Greenford

The Locust Grove Baptist Church and the Salem Baptist Church will unite in a Christmas cantata to be given in Salem Dec. 21 and to be repeated at Greenford School on Christmas Eve.

Beautiful music, effective dialogue and a heartwarming story are combined in "Miracle At The Inn" by Norma J. Surdam with music by Robert C. Wilson.

Ministers, teachers, and officers of the "School For Christian Workers" to begin Monday evening, Jan. 12, met Tuesday at the Lutheran Church. This school is being planned for anybody who wishes to attend from Junior High age on up. A small fee will be charged and an estimated amount of books have been ordered. The school books have been ordered. The school beginning Jan. 12 will last for six Monday nights, to begin promptly at 7:30.

Registration will begin the first Monday evening at 6:30. For further information inquire from any of the ministers of the Green Township Sunday School Union and Rev. Louis Sudemeyer.

Greenford School will close for the holidays next Tuesday with a Christmas program, and resume again Jan. 5th.

Willing Workers Class of the Greenford Lutheran Church was entertained by Mrs. Salem Gromley last evening. Mrs. Guy Rhodes led the devotionals and Mrs. J. F. Reed had the lesson study. Roll call was an appropriate Bible verse. For entertainment they enjoyed a gift exchange.

Washingtonville

Friendship class of Trinity Lutheran Church held its monthly meeting Friday evening in the social room of the church. During the business session officers were elected as follows:

President, Mrs. James Dickson; vice president, Mrs. Donald Indermill; secretary, Mrs. Vera Hauer; and treasurer, Mrs. Emmet Brudery.

At the social period a coverdish supper and Christmas exchange was enjoyed. Bingo entertained with Mrs. William Weikart. Mrs. James Dickson, Mrs. Vera Hauer, Mrs. Louis Stouffer, Mrs. Clarence Bricker, Miss Shirley Grindle and Miss Freda Saftred winning prizes. Mrs. Carl Vignon and Freda Saftred will be the January hostesses.

Volunteer firemen held their regular meeting Thursday evening when officers were elected as follows:

President, E. J. Savage; vice president, Harry DeLucia; secretary, Robert Boston, and treasurer, Lloyd Berg.

Six firemen attended the Tri-County Firemen association at North Lima Dec. 9. The firemen have purchased the following pieces of equipment recently: Six protective helmets, six pair of boots, one dozen pair of plastic covered gloves.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Stouffer were pleasantly surprised Saturday evening when relatives and friends came surprise fashion to remind them of their birthdays.

Cards and television entertained the guests with Mrs. J. A. Stouffer, Mrs. Clyde Bricker, Howard Stouffer Sr. and Howard Stouffer Jr. winning prizes. The affair was planned by Mrs. Clarence Bricker and Mrs. Margaret Spear who served the lunch. Both honorees were presented gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Fieldhouse celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary Sunday with open house when 72 relatives and friends called to offer them congratulations. Miss Thelma Rohrer and Marvin Fieldhouse were married on Dec. 24, 1927 at the home of Rev. Davis, pastor of the Leetonia Methodist Church in Leetonia. They have two children, a daughter, Auth Anne and a son, John. They have lived in Washingtonville all their married life.

Electric Companies Pay Hikes Granted

SCHENECTADY, N. Y. (AP)—Pay raises for 30,000 employees of General Electric, Westinghouse Electric and Sylvania Products Cos. were approved today by the Wage Stabilization Board in Washington. It was announced here.

Frank Fiorillo, an international representative of the CIO International Union of Electrical Workers, said he had received word from Washington that the board voted approval at 11 a.m.

Fiorillo said the increases would apply to all production workers of members of the IUE and the Independent United Electrical Workers. He said all plants of the three companies were involved.

OF the 300,000, he said, 120,000 are members of the IUE.

"Deflation" Worries Many Who Like 52-Cent Dollars

NEW YORK (AP)—A drop in the cost of living—a restoration of the buying power of the dollar—would be a welcome Christmas present for everyone.

Or would it?

Call it "making a dollar worth 100 cents again", and it sounds fine. Call it "deflation", and a lot of people get worried.

The dollar actually has 100 cents now, as it always did, but inflation has chiseled away much of its buying power.

When you talk of a "52-cent dollar," you mean that before the war 52 cents would buy as much in goods and services as one dollar will now.

The pre-war dollar bought more raw materials. And it bought more labor.

Many people, however, had fewer dollars then to spend on goods than they do today.

It is the others—those with only as many dollars a week to spend now as they had before the war—for whom the postwar rise in the cost of living is particularly rough.

Millions, for example, are trying to live on pensions or savings—earned when the dollar bought more, and being spent now when inflation has taken half of its buying power.

To deflate the economy, get back to prewar prices, and make the dollar as hefty in purchasing power as it once was, however, might mean that people would have to take in fewer dollars for the commodities they grow or mine, and get less for transporting them to factories.

Workers in factories and mills might have to take pay cuts. And those who supply factories with tools, materials and services would have to slash their prices—and incomes.

Stores would have to pay less for rent, light, fixtures and clerks than they do now.

Everyone would enjoy paying less for the things he has to buy. Few would relish getting less for the goods or labor he has for sale.

A Virginia farmer says of inflation: "I like having more money. I know it runs right through my fingers when I go to the store. But I like the feel of more of it in my hands."

And a Bloomington, Ill., man writes: "Our dollar is worth 100 cents, always has been and always will be."

"After all, a dollar is simply a token of a day's work, and the more days work there are, the better for everybody and the country in general."

Health Plan Fate Up To Ike, AMA

Medical Fight Against Bill Might Kill It

WASHINGTON (AP)—The fate of a new plan to make it easier for people to meet doctor bills appeared today to hinge on whether President-elect Eisenhower is for it and how strongly the American Medical Association may be against it.

The plan, developed by President Truman's Commission on the nation's Health Needs, is built largely around voluntary, prepaid medical insurance financed in part by federal and state governments.

Senators interested in the health problem said they doubted the new program could get through Congress if the AMA decides to battle it. They said the one thing that might get it enacted would be definite, unmincing words from the new president that he wants it.

Eisenhower has taken no stand so far on the voluntary, pay-in-advance health plan. During the presidential campaign, he spoke out against what he termed "socialized medicine" and for improved medical service for the people.

The AMA up to now has taken a stand—in opposition—on only one phase of the program. AMA President Louis H. Bauer said a recommendation that the government buy health insurance for some social security beneficiaries out of social security funds spells "compulsory health insurance" and eventual control of health services by "big government."

The AMA intends to thumb through the entire report before commenting on all of it.

Truman, who battled through the years for a compulsory health insurance plan financed by payroll taxes on employers and employees, found the new proposal satisfactory. He said he hoped it would be carried out.

Whether his endorsement will have weight with the incoming republican Congress is, of course, questionable. Truman couldn't get compulsory health insurance approved even when the Democrats ran Congress.

What the health commission proposes is a broad new system, backed by 1 billion dollars of federal and state funds every year, to help bring medical care within the reach of everyone who wants it on a prepayment basis.

States and individuals could come in or stay out. If they came in, it would be under standards set by the federal government. But the insurance plan would be run largely by local and state boards.

Truman Won't Retract Remarks On Ike's Trip

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman, who once changed his mind about whether Dwight D. Eisenhower should succeed him, hasn't changed it about the President-elect's trip to Korea.

He said so at his news conference yesterday. He had nothing to add or take back, he said, from the remark he had made a week earlier. He had said then Eisenhower's campaign announcement he would go to Korea was demagoguery, and that Eisenhower had to go through with it.

The President had no comment on Wednesday's meeting between Eisenhower and Gen. Douglas MacArthur, who says there is a way to end the Korean War.

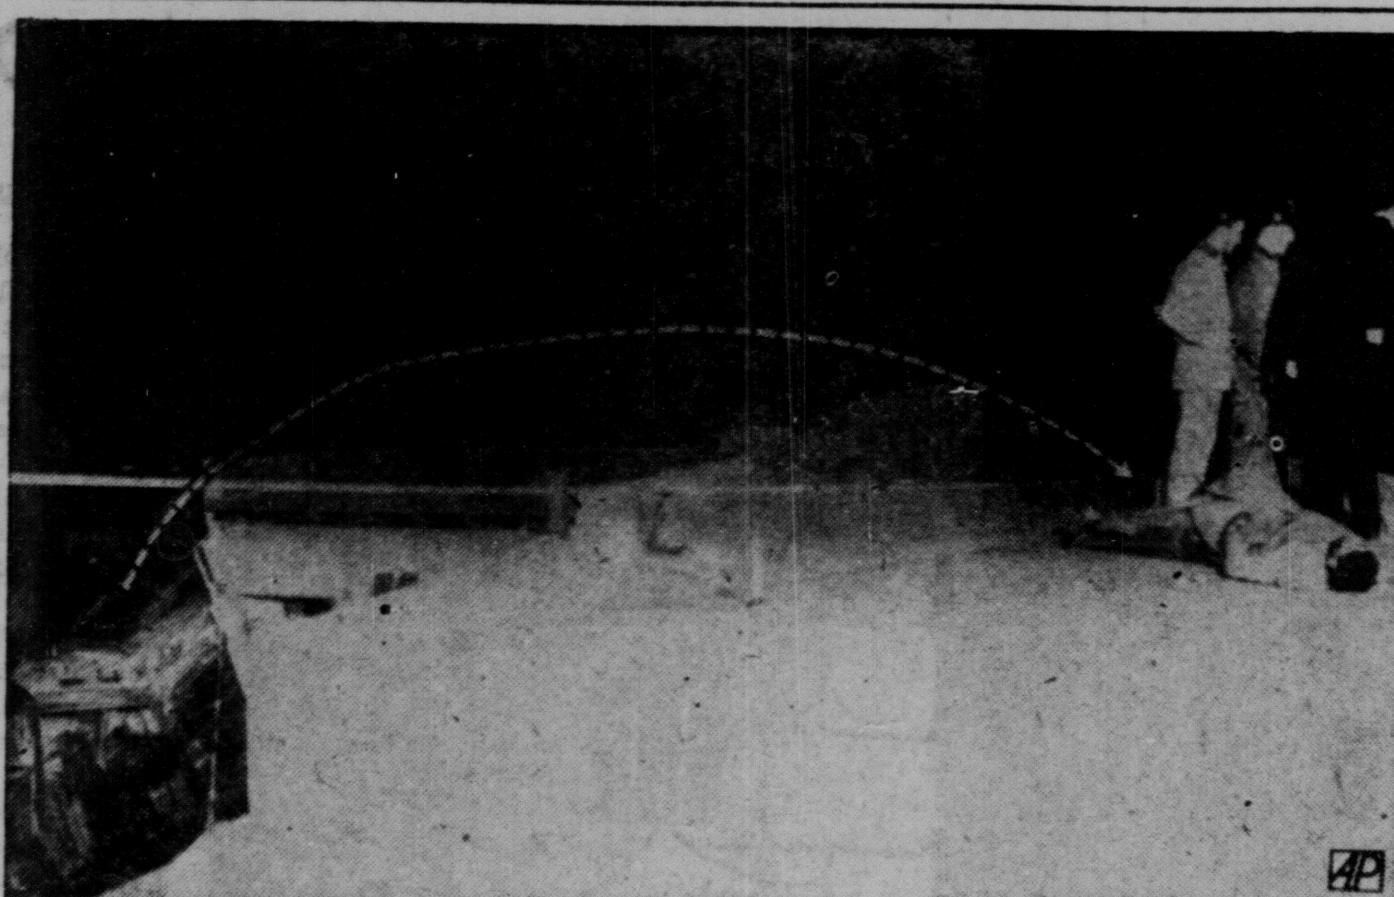

Ringling Circus Fat Lady Dies At 43

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The death of "Dainty Dottie," one-time 585-pound fat lady of Ringling Brothers circus fame, was disclosed yesterday.

The 43-year-old circus attraction died Tuesday at her home here. In private life, she was Mrs. Owen Jensen, wife of a circus tattoo artist.

In recent years, her weight had been considerably less than its circus peak. She made medical history on Aug. 12, 1949, when she gave birth to a 9 pound, 4 1/2 ounce son by Caesarean section. She weighed 350 pounds then.

Besides her husband, she leaves another son, Richard Strindberg, 21, by another marriage.

He suffered a possible skull fracture, compound fracture of the left arm, broken left leg, and possible internal injuries, but was expected to live.

Bricker Proposal To Limit U.S. Treaties' Scope Gains Support

WASHINGTON (AP)—A far-reaching, possibly historic move to limit the scope of United States treaties attracted strong support today from incoming congressmen throughout the country.

Lawmakers replying to an Associated Press survey went on record 8 to 1 as favoring a move by Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) to amend the Constitution so as to prohibit the U. S. from entering into binding international agreements in such fields as human freedoms and social and economic rights.

Supporters agree enthusiastically that some such ban is needed to insure against a yielding away of American rights; foes say the amendment would just delay and hamstring international cooperation and the conduct of foreign affairs by the U. S.

Bricker's argument is that the field of human freedoms and social rights is an international matter which should be governed only by domestic law—by the Constitution itself, and by state and federal laws passed under the Constitution.

Although the Ohio senator concedes no treaties signed so far have regulated domestic rights of Americans he insists that treaties now pending before the United Nations — if finally ratified by the U. S. — would restrict freedom of the press, freedom of speech, trial by jury and other rights guaranteed in the American Constitution.

Bricker says he fears there is a strong "new fashion in international law," departing from his concept that the founding fathers intended treaties to deal only with relations between nations, and not with domestic affairs.

If his interpretation is right—if some day a treaty did conflict with rights guaranteed by the U. S. Constitution — which would be the supreme law?

Bricker insists the Constitution itself isn't clear on this point. Legal experts differ on it. So the Ohio senator wants to write into the Constitution a clear-cut statement that the domestic rights and freedoms of U. S. citizens are governed only by U. S. laws and cannot be regulated or limited or defined in any way by international agreements.

The language of his proposed amendment drew fire from the State and Justice Departments in the last session of Congress on two grounds:

1 — The proposal would erect a barrier of undue delay and restriction in international cooperation and the conduct of foreign affairs by the U. S.

2 — The amendment is not necessary, because if a treaty ever conflicted with the Constitution the Supreme Court would hold the Constitution is supreme and that section of the treaty would be invalidated.

An Associated Press survey of opinions among incoming congressmen showed overwhelming sentiment in favor of the principle of the Bricker proposal, but some doubt about the language and just how far it should go in restricting treaty-making powers.

Bricker is rewriting his proposed amendment and promises to make in his top order of business in the new Congress, convening Jan. 3.

In the survey, senators and representatives throughout the country were asked, "Do you believe the Constitution should be amended along the lines of the Bricker resolution to specify that treaties may never take precedence over rights and guarantees in the Constitution?"

Ninety-seven House members definitely replied yes, and 41 were inclined favorably—a total of 138. Only five said no and 10 others were inclined toward opposition, a total of 15 — 10 Democrats and five Republicans.

In the Senate, 19 senators sponsored the resolution in the last session. Thirty-four indicated support in the survey and five—all Democrats—indicated opposition.

4 Ultra High Frequency TV Stations Get Transmitters

NEW YORK (AP)—Ultra high frequency (UHF) television takes a giant stride today, with four stations receiving transmitters for sending programs on channels newly opened to video.

They will race to get on the air as quickly as possible, and the winner will be the nation's second UHF station and the first with commercial equipment.

Station WFFG-TV in Atlantic City, N. J., is claiming the honor in advance, saying it will have its transmitter installed and test signals on the air within hours, possibly by midnight, with regular programs starting at 5 p.m., EST, Saturday.

All four stations have trucks and engineers waiting at the Camden, N. J., plant of the RCA Victor Division of Radio Corporation of America. By early afternoon they hope to be rolling toward their stations with their prized equipment.

The other three are WSBA-TV, York, Pa., and WBRE-TV, Wilkes Barre, Pa., and WSBT-TV, South Bend, Ind.

The first UHF station on the air was KPTV in Portland, Ore., which started Sept. 19, but it temporarily is telecasting with equipment used by RCA for its experimental station at Bridgeport, Conn.

The engineering products department of RCA Victor said additional transmitters for UHF stations were on the production line and would be shipped as fast as completed and tested. Other manufacturers, including General Electric, have similar equipment in the works.

The new UHF stations will be watched with close attention by the industry to learn what telecasters and set owners in other parts of the country can expect when additional stations of that type go on the air.

2 Lady Bandits Forget Small Item - The Gun

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Two lady bandits, probably trying their first stickup, forgot one little item: The gun!

"When one of them opened the cash register and reached for the money, I slapped it out of her hand," said William Brown Jr., a service station attendant who was being "held up."

One woman suddenly remembered she had forgotten the gun, ran to her car and came back brandishing a revolver. That, confided Brown, made him angry. He punched the woman and took her gun away.

"They begged me to give it back," Brown said, "but I told them I was going to call the police and they left. They were so dumb I couldn't believe it all."

$100,000 In Checks Gunmen Return Stolen

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Two bandits kidnaped at gunpoint an American Airlines messenger who was on his way to make a $100,000 bank deposit but handed the money bag back when they discovered it contained only checks.

Detective Lt. Paul Livingston said the men left Joe Wing, the 20-year-old employee, bound and gagged in their stolen automobile yesterday after driving him around the city for about 45 minutes. Wing worked free and telephoned his employer.

Hence, McCarthyism

For many of his countrymen, Sen. McCarthy of Wisconsin has become a symbolic knight in a crusade against the evil forces of Communism.

Admirers cannot understand how it is possible to find any fault in a man on the right side of a vital issue. They resent criticism of Sen. McCarthy and, if annoyed, will murmur that anyone questioning his methods must therefore be a pro-Communist.

There is nothing alarming about this in the United States, where people can disagree without being kidnapped and sent before a firing squad. It happens all the time. But it is still important to understand the issue of McCarthyism as argued between anti-Communists who contend there is a right way to be an anti-Communist and a wrong way.

Sen. McCarthy, himself, revealed why there is an issue when he told listeners in New York City on Dec. 10 that he was against people who "thought like Communists" as well as those alleged to be Communists.

That category is broad enough to include everybody who does not think like McCarthy. That is the essence of McCarthyism and explains why there will continue to be an issue over this man fighting Communists with tactics which would scare the rest of us stiff if he decided to use them against us sometime.

In Union There Is Strength

Perhaps the coming event with the greatest effect on government will be the discovery in Washington that a government of all the people does not need to fear pressure blocs.

The people as a whole are impervious to minority pressure. If the Eisenhower administration can keep itself from becoming the victim of any particular minority, it can do its administering in the name of the majority.

A case in point is what happened to the Roosevelt-Truman administrations at the hands of the dissident unionists led by John L. Lewis, when he organized the Congress of Industrial Organizations.

This split organized labor. The CIO, which eventually was to wield tremendous influence in government, was always a minority inside organized labor. But it had the effect of a majority because it knew how to exploit its resources. The CIO gradually wedged the Democratic party into an untenable position of minority rule.

It will presumably try to continue the same tactics against the Eisenhower administration. There even is talk of organized labor unity — the "one-big-union" dream which has never been realized.

It probably never will be realized, for a plain reason. The CIO, being a minority, would have everything to lose and nothing to gain by throwing in its lot with the AFL now.

Year-Around Brotherhood

Plans already are under way for annual observance of Brotherhood Week Feb. 15-22. It will be of special significance because this is the 25th anniversary of the founding of the observance. It has grown in importance and the general nature of its observance through the years.

The purpose as stated by Charles Evans Hughes, Newton D. Baker and the other originators is "to promote justice, amity, understanding and cooperation between Protestants, Catholics and Jews." This purpose has been expanded to include promotion of the spirit of brotherhood not only between religions but also between races, classes and all the other artificial distinctions which sometimes separate men from their brothers.

The silver anniversary will be an occasion for justified satisfaction over the progress which has been made in breaking down barriers men have erected among themselves. It is a time for making America aware of the many accomplishments in the elimination of bigotry, prejudice, misunderstanding and suspicion among Americans.

It is fitting that the newspaper committee for observance of Brotherhood Week, chairmaned by Louis B. Seizer, editor of the Cleveland Press, should have an important part in the anniversary planning and the year around activities of the organization.

Nowhere is the spirit of understanding and cooperation more actively in operation than in the American newspaper. This newspaper and others who have maintained American journalism on such a high level are daily examples of the fair and equitable treatment of all the citizens without regard to race, color, creed or any other divisions which might separate one group of Americans from all the others.

With them there is observance of brotherhood and equality day in and day out, year after year. When all people observe and practice this same sense of equality and justice America will grow in strength within and without. When all Americans are brothers of all others then this nation will know real security. Happily that day seems closer with each observance of Brotherhood Week.

Senate Leadership

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Ike Satisfied Taft Will Promote Unity

Sen. Taft will be the Republican majority leader of the new Senate.

This can be forecast from the fact that President-elect Eisenhower has let it be known that he is neutral — that he is not taking any part in the selection of a majority leader by the Senate.

This is more significant than appears at first glance. It conveys the important information that the president-elect does not have the slightest objection to the naming of Sen. Taft.

If Gen. Eisenhower had by so much as a hint or frown indicated any possible unhappiness over the selection, it might have stirred up opposition.

The general's position is in accord with tradition. It isn't the business of a president to pick the leaders in Congress, but at the same time he may manifest displeasure if someone opposed to his policies were to be suggested.

By making it known that the president-elect will be agreeable to any choice the Senate makes — the Ohio senator or anybody else — the way is opened to the election of Mr. Taft when the Senate reconvenes next month. Almost all the Republican senators are for Taft if he wants the post — and he does.

The problem of the Senate's leadership has been talked over a lot in the last few weeks. Some persons without any particular feeling of opposition to Sen. Taft have feared that his selection as majority leader would mean a series of compromises and adjustments on policy in which the general would be finding it necessary to make constant concessions.

Others who are very friendly to Mr. Taft thought the post might be embarrassing to the senator himself for the opposite reason — namely, he might have to modify his own views in order to represent the Senate at the White House in legislative controversies.

The simple fact is that Sen. Taft is perhaps the ablest man in Congress and knows more about more pieces of legislation and subjects of legislation than anybody else in either house. He knows more, too, about how to work out agreements on delicate problems of legislation, and he knows that often bills can't be passed at all without material concessions.

He is probably the one man who could be of maximum assistance to the new president in matters of legislation. And that is going to be very important if the Republicans are to make gains in the Congressional elections of 1954 or win again in 1956.

Why, it has been asked, does Sen. Taft want to be majority leader? The answer is that he has spent most of his legislative life on the minority side, and he is anxious to do a constructive job of leadership on the majority side. It is a new challenge to his talents and will give him new satisfactions if he can succeed in harmonizing his party in the Senate.

What kind of leader will Sen. Taft make? The country will find him loyal to the White House and a sincere spokesman for its proposals, but at the same time, as in the case of every leader, it will not be of much avail to the president to have a leader who follows him blindly without regard to what other members of the Senate want. There has to be a good deal of conference and discussion by the legislative leaders at the White House before decisions on policy are formalized.

On domestic policy, the Ohio senator is more of a liberal-conservative than an ultra-conservative, as evidenced by his attitude on education and housing and social security.

On foreign policy, Sen. Taft has accepted the principles of international cooperation. He is going to be guided by the facts and circumstances that are decisive factors in making an international program. He will have to exert all the skill of a Vandenberg and yet win the support of senators who heretofore have been considered extreme in their criticisms.

The Ohio senator will have a better chance of getting senators of that group to go along with the administration's legislative proposals than anybody else would. For he is persuasive and will have made a thorough examination of the questions at issue before undertaking to champion the legislative measures that are recommended by the president.

Incidentally, the recent "rift" over appointments was more of a blunt expression of opinion about how appointments shouldn't be handled than any indication of a serious cleavage. Sen. Taft, for instance, will not oppose Martin Durkin's confirmation as secretary of labor.

All in all, President-elect Eisenhower is satisfied that the same man who took off his coat and fought so hard for the election of the Republican nominee last autumn, despite the bitter pre-convention campaign, is ready to do so again in order to effect a united Republican party in the Senate. It is a significant development.

While the Democrats may be disappointed that factionalism in the Republican party is diminishing rapidly, the emerging fact is that the Republican party is going to unite behind President Eisenhower as the true leader of the party.

There will be less and less talk of a Dewey faction or a Taft faction. It's going to be an Ike party all the way through.

Diet Does It

By TRUMAN TWILL

Nothing is gristier to the mill of a newspaper writer than a bout with sickness, assuming he lives to tell about it. The spiel has been given thousands of times, on the assumption that readers will enjoy a description of the way they felt, too.

But when it happened to me this time, there was nothing to write about. Either the bugs are getting bigger or I am getting smaller. They pulverized me. Forty-eight hours after I staggered into the house, squeaked, "I'm sick" and wriggled into bed I still didn't wonder how they'd get along without me.

When no one was around, I half-crawled to the window to take one last look at the old place down there in the valley snug by the creek. She was looking mighty purty, especially the chicken.

The chicken is a relic from the housewarming party three years ago. She was an old biddy then. But nobody ever saw a sprucer Leghorn than she is this winter.

Last winter, she moulted just before Christmas and almost froze to death as she huddled in the barn waiting for new feathers to sprout. Then she had a big surge of maternal instinct and began to set.

She set all spring and summer, with no eggs under her. There has never been a sorrier-looking chicken. Since self-destruction seemed inevitable, she escaped euthanasia by a merciful impulse, no more.

In the fall she unset and began to appear outside the barn. She took nourishment, though it seemed to have no effect as far as her appearance was concerned. Then something unexpected happened.

The dogs turned against what was left — possibly 25 pounds — of a 100-pound sack of dog food which had been on hand too long. The sack was emptied into a container in the barn, where the chicken could get at it if she wanted it.

She wanted it. She gobbled it up. Her comb turned pink and her legs turned yellow. Her feathers grew fluffy and her eyes grew bright. Ten days later she started to bang out an egg a day. Hasn't missed since.

She felt so good she scratched out clods of dirt in the frozen ground. That's what she was doing when we crawled to the window to take a last look-see at the world.

The clods were flying. She was bursting with health — that old biddy which should have been cooked into a stew years ago — living on borrowed time.

I put on my bathrobe and slippers, went to the kitchen and crammed down a bowl of chickenfeed. It said on the package that if I ate a ton of the stuff it would satisfy my basic requirements for three essential vitamins, plus a fourth which was still indeterminate. I ate only one helping.

Today I came back to work. It was that easy. Diet. Nothing else.

Uncle Ef Soys

There comes a time when a husband and father has to choose between being the life of an office Christmas Eve party and helping trim the family Christmas tree. Few men can do both, says Aunt Molly Harmsworth.

A Pattern Of Control

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

One of the most interesting characters to emerge from obscurity and to return to it in peace and safety is a powerful figure in the half-world of politics and the mobs. He has been known as "Three-Finger Brown."

His correct name is Thomas Luchese. The accusation has been made that Luchese is the successor to Frank Costello in the control of the political power of New York City. Two investigations have brought to the attention of the residents of our largest city the power of the mobs.

The Kefauver committee brought Costello to heel. Prior to Kefauver's exposure, Costello was a man about town who associated with the best of them on terms of intimacy.

THE CITIZENS never elected Frank Costello to office, but somehow he came into possession of some powers of municipal appointment, being particularly influential with the local judiciary. Costello was eliminated by publicity.

In the last mayoralty campaign, three candidates were running for mayor, Vincent Impellitteri, Ferdinand Pecora, and Edward Corsi. The story went the rounds that Costello favored Pecora who as a judge had established a good reputation; that Luchese favored Impellitteri who made a fascinating display of independence; and that Governor Thomas E. Dewey favored Corsi who is known as a liberal.

It was expected that Pecora would be elected; instead Impellitteri was.

In the nether political circles, it is still being said that after this victory, Luchese decided not to be number two to Costello and set out to remove him, which was accomplished when Costello was sentenced to imprisonment in a federal court.

AT THE TIME of the Kefauver investigation, it was hoped that the exposure of Costello would lessen the power of the mobs in New York City where they engage not only in the dope traffic, but in every form of crime and vice.

They have penetrated labor unions, particularly the waterfront which has become a jungle. They have moved in on the food supply, garment, fur, and trucking industries. But the elimination of Costello has not eliminated the evil.

The mob boss of New York remains Lucky Luciano who lives in Italy. Students of the rule by the mob (often referred to as the Mafia) had hoped that the investigation by the New York State Crime Commission into the affairs of Luchese would lead to the pattern of Luciano's power and his ability to control affairs in New York by remote control.

Luciano was imprisoned, pardoned and released and left for Italy, where he lives in great wealth and exposes himself to the public view in all his opulence. It is believed that he has established a world monopoly of the dope trade.

IN THE UNDERWORLD, dope means power. The turnover is so means power. The turnover is so rapid and profitable that the narcotics merchant is able to build a huge fortune in a short time and to use that fortune to gain control of a mob, to intimidate enemies or to have them killed and to purchase politicians who will do his bidding.

The narcotics merchant enjoys the further advantage of not paying income taxes. He is an entrepreneur in an illicit business who can build a fortune while honest men are impoverished by taxes. His problem is to get rid of his unexplainable dollars. This can more readily be done in a foreign country than in the United States and various devices are entered upon, the simplest being the constant exchange of illicit dollars for illicit narcotics, for smuggled jewels, for unidentifiable diamonds.

AFTER ACQUIRING huge sums, ways are found for buying into real estate, hotels, theaters, backing various enterprises, until the mobster has come into possession of valuable equities.

This phase of the transaction is difficult because the Internal Revenue Bureau, the FBI and other agencies are on the lookout.

If corruption of government officials, particularly in the Internal Revenue Bureau and the Department of Justice, is delved into more deeply than has yet been the case it might ultimately disclose the method by which illicit dollars, on which no income tax is paid, find their way into legitimate enterprises.

It was hoped that the investigation of Luchese would lead to Luciano and to the techniques of corruption. But with astonishing suddenness, this particular investigation ceased.

Perhaps Sen. Langer, who will be chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee, will reopen this investigation.

Flair For Dramatics

By JACK JONAS

It began to appear last week that the nation would have another master of the dramatic in the White House.

There had been signs before. During the campaign, candidate Dwight D. Eisenhower jumped into the headlines with a sudden promise that if elected he would go to Korea. In addition to raising the hopes of a true-weary people, this offer caught the public fancy.

The general was a recognized strategist — he had delivered during his military career. But his style of delivery had never been that of a Gen. George S. Patton or a Gen. Douglas MacArthur. His proposal stirred surprise among the electorate, which for 20 years had been dinned with the specter of conservative Republicanism. It had been told in four campaigns, and now in a fifth, that Republican normalcy had no place in the scheme of a nation moving ahead.

The people had lived through three terms, and part of a fourth, with President Franklin Roosevelt, when dramatics came with ease and regularity, and when split-timing was part of the normal pattern. They had come to expect big things.

President Harry Truman made headlines, also, but the fashion was more bombastic and earthy, with none of the Rooseveltian subtleties and theatrics that had become a part of the political scene. The drama was gone. The theater seemed to be between shows.

Following the election, it was natural that the president — elect would be in the public eye, and that his moves — even the minor ones — would set the news teletypes clattering. But the clamor that arose from the reporters' typewriters had not been foreseen. President — elect Eisenhower began almost immediately to name his Cabinet and the major advisers who would wield much influence when the new administration came to power. There was little time for rumor and pressure to develop. In less than three weeks the Cabinet was complete. Never before had the job been done so rapidly.

The general spaced the appointments and thus made news almost daily.

The political sages and commentators leaned back for a breathing spell after the first flurry ended. But they had to do their breathing quickly. The president — elect plunged in again.

This time it was a top-level conference aboard the cruiser Helena, which was bringing the general back from Korea.

Eisenhower's actions in one brief month had been reminiscent of President Roosevelt. Roosevelt met in far-off places with leaders of state and his own advisers. He acted quickly when a situation called for fast action.

But the differences in personality are broad. With the president — elect, the dramatics seemed to follow, rather than precede, the event. He is essentially a quieter man.

Critics accuse Ike of putting on a big show, with few results expected. In moving from army officer to president, the general will find it necessary to adjust from unquestioned acceptance of his decisions to a practice of constant probing and criticism.

Whatever the outcome, it appears that the Eisenhower grin has filled the place left vacant after Roosevelt's wave of the hand disappeared from the political stage.

BIBLE QUOTATION

Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

Yule Letter From Korea

Dear Folks: Merry Christmas, and what a kick I will get out of it the next time I see one on the home grounds! Over here we have all the snow and ice that Christmas calls for, but the features I grew up with — the reindeer, the Christmas tree, the fun and the music have gone AWOL. There are times when it seems like old Kris Kringle might be in a detention camp. When not choging (that's an army expression for uphill work) along blitzed mountains we get a chance to show and feel a little Christmas spirit with the Korean kids, who can use it more than any kids on earth, and it gives us a lift. But a GI doesn't get any foolish ideas about hanging up his stocking.

When Santa gets into the act over in Korea he operates in an armored car or tank, and on short rations. He can get that pack shot off his back any minute. This is a bleak rockpile and it sure gives me a lift to think of life back home where 20 above is considered a cold spell, where you can get more heat by rapping on a radiator and where the worst fighting takes place in the subways, department stores, movie lobbies, automat lunchrooms and around the railroad station posts marked "Palm Beach, Fort Lauderdale, Miami, Key West."

I had a dream last night that I was reading an advertisement that went like this:

"Party going to Florida would be glad to take young man in return for driving car. All expenses paid."

I reached out for pen and ink in this dream so fast that I threw out one shoulder. I was in an observation post at the time. Things were so rough that I could have thrown out both shoulders without thinking the going was any tougher.

I told the sarge about the dream. He said, "Even if you hadn't woke up it wouldn't of done you no good. In the second part of that dream, somewhere between Richmond and Savannah, your draft board would of got you."

Christmas over here sure has a queer effect. The entertainment angle is out and the back home Christmas routine seems like something I read about a long time ago. But the religious feeling is pretty strong.

A mass or any service in an open field does something to me that no service in a church or cathedral ever did. Up front the whole story of Bethlehem seems extra real. It ain't hard to see the stars just as described in the script. Looking up at them a GI feels like saying, "Yes, I know what you mean now."

Joe Doolan, one of my buddies, opened a package and found wrapped in six pairs of socks one of them small mangers like we always had on the table back home. At first it seemed silly. Everybody got a laugh. But the guy set it up on a rock and in a few minutes it was getting better notices than "Oklahoma" or "South Pacific."

Well, that's the way it goes. I hope you are all well and will have a great Christmas. Don't worry about me. (I tried to convince Ike Eisenhower that I would make him a swell mascot on his return trip to the U.S.A. He didn't take me. I guess he didn't believe me when I told him that getting me out of this was what MacArthur meant by a new plan to end the war.)

Love to all,
Joe

Gen. Eisenhower is reported so burned up over President Truman's digs that he may land on the Potomac beach with even less regard that he showed for those holding the Normandy beaches when he landed. . . . Harry won't know what a real deep freeze is like, we suspect until he meets Ike at the inaugural.

President Truman has become so explosive we may be able to use him in a new mystery weapon.

A Concord, N. H., warden announces he will have to raise the pay of prisoners for work done in the hoosegow factory. . . . Otherwise they will leave and go elsewhere.

We rise once more to express amazement at the disrespect for horses shown by owners of modern thoroughbreds. . . . Jeepscreepers, Diddy, Inezmuck, Jimminygoosh, Broken Arches antadance are among recent entries noted. . . . What's become of the horseman who used to get a little sentiment and beauty into the name of a pretty noble animal?

FROM THE NEWS FILES

FORTY YEARS AGO—John J. Enright has been elected president of the C.M.B.A. for 1953. Associate officers are William Scullion, William Finnigan, Charles Welty, George J. Woerther, Fred Woerther, Thomas McClosky, Lawrence Leininger and Alex McLaughlin.

Laura Silsby of Cleveland is a guest of Dr. and Mrs. Church of Lincoln Ave.

Miss Betty Deming, who is attending Pine Manor, Wellesley, Mass., is home for the holidays.

TEN YEARS AGO—British troops have crossed the Indian border and advanced some 40 miles into Japanese occupied Burma.

E. M. Stephenson, executive vice president of the Farmers National Bank since the first of the year, was elected president at a meeting of the board of directors.

FIVE YEARS AGO—Signs of a Republican split plus Democratic opposition to GOP proposals left it almost certain that Congress will go home for Christmas without passing any cost-of-living legislation.

Mrs. Frederick Morrison and Mrs. Glen Couche received prizes at a gathering of Bel-Jam-R Club associates at the home of Mrs. Howard Whinnery, Homewood Ave.

A year-old tot broke an arm when it climbed over the top of a play pen. It had heard the song, "Don't Fence Me In."

Two college students were expelled for stealing examination papers. They really failed.

Over 70 Persons Attend St. Jacob's Class Fete

A Christmas party and gift exchange were enjoyed by members of the Christian Home Builders Class of St. Jacob's Evangelical and Reformed Church when they met Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Homer McPherson of Lisbon. Co-hosts were Mr. and Mrs. Orrie Taylor.

A highlight of the evening was the appearance of "Santa Claus" to pass out gifts and candy canes to the children. Santa explained the meaning of Christmas to the children. Lunch was served.

Over 70 members and their families attended.

Perry Lodge Officers Are Installed

Officers for 1953 of Perry Lodge F. & A. M. were installed at a special meeting recently. Installation ceremonies were conducted by Right Worshipful Brother Ed Jenkins, grand Tyler of the Grand Lodge of Ohio who was assisted by Worshipful Brother William Aldom and Worshipful Brother Myron Kelly. Other past masters of Perry Lodge filled the chairs during installation ceremonies.

Officers installed were: Donald Harvey, worshipful master; Ruward Fennema, senior warden; Charles Mangus, junior warden; Ross Painter, treasurer; Clem Knowles, secretary; Ernest Horton, senior deacon; Fred Schramm, junior deacon; Ed Burcaw, Tyler; Newell Kelly, senior steward and Ed Lesch, junior steward.

Worshipful Brother Russell Moore, retiring master, was presented a past master's jewel by Past Master Ned Massa on behalf of Perry Lodge. He was also presented a past master's apron by the officers who served under him the past year.

Preceding the meeting, a dinner was served by members of the Order of Eastern Star. Wives of the incoming officers served refreshments after the meeting.

Salem News Girls Feted At Party

Following their Christmas dinner party Thursday evening in the Coffee Cup, girls employed in the composing room, business and editorial offices of The Salem News concluded the entertaining evening in the home of Mrs. Edith Archibald on Maple St.

The girls were guests of their employers for dinner. Mrs. John Botu opened the gifts she received in a surprise stork shower and all the girls had a gift in the Christmas exchange. After viewing television, Mrs. Archibald served refreshments. A blue-lighted Christmas tree added to the party decorations. Guests were Mrs. Robert Roberts, former employee, and Mrs. Lee Hoskinson, mother of Mrs. Botu.

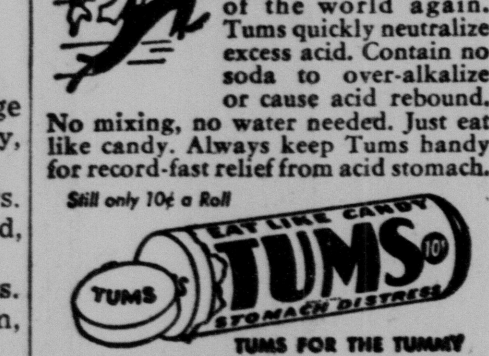

PROGRAM SCHEDULED

Youngsters of the New Albany Community Church School will present recitations and the choir will sing at the Christmas program Sunday at 8 p. m. in the church. Rev. Audrey Miller is church pastor and Mrs. Miller is the choir director. Members will bring gifts to be distributed among those present.

Start the Day Right

...without After-Breakfast Slump

Why start the day feeling dull and logy because of too much acid churning in your stomach? Just 1 or 2 Tums, eaten after breakfast will pull you out of that "after-breakfast slump" — put you back on top of the world again. Tums quickly neutralize excess acid. Contain no soda to over-alkalize or cause acid rebound. No mixing, no water needed. Just eat like candy. Always keep Tums handy for record-fast relief from acid stomach.

Mary Janvier Adams Is Wed To Thomas York Of Salem

A Salem man took a Baltimore girl as his bride last Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Cantonville Presbyterian Church in Baltimore.

Thomas Allen York, son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin A. York of the Georgetown Rd., wed Mary Janvier Adams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Janvier, in a ceremony attended by people from Salem, Hartsville, Warren, Baltimore, Wilmington and Long Island.

Rev. Wilson Reese performed the double ring ceremony and witnessed the exchange of vows and rings. Mr. Janvier escorted his daughter to the altar.

Gowned in taffeta, the bride complemented her costume with an orchid-centered colonial bouquet. Her lovely headdress was held in place by a cloche of nylon, studded with seed pearls.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Patricia Whitehall. Her waltz-length gown of coral was styled with a bolero. She wore a headdress of feathers, and yellow roses were arranged in her bouquet.

Conrad McGrath of Pittsburgh was best man. Ushers were Dr. D. L. Ream of Hartsville and Rollin Bidlock of Warren, brothers-in-law of the groom.

Following the wedding a reception took place in the home of the bride's parents on Oak Forrest Dr. The newlyweds are honeymooning in Baltimore.

ing in Washington, D.C. When they return, Mr. York will be associated with E. W. Bliss Co in Canton. A graduate of Ohio State University, College of Engineering, he spent the past two years in the army and was with the technical unit of the development and proof service at Aberdeen Proving Grounds.

The new Mr. and Mrs. York will be at home to friends at 1906 48th St. N.W. Canton.

Anastasia Called By Crime Probe

O'Dwyer Linked To Waterfront Rackets

NEW YORK (AP)—Albert Anastasia, reputed boss executioner of the old Murder, Inc., mob, was expected to testify today before the New York State Crime Commission.

The name of Anastasia, often mentioned as a power on the Brooklyn waterfront, has cropped up throughout the hearings sifting evidence of gangster rule along the miles of Port of New York docks.

Subpoenaed to testify earlier in the probe, Anastasia asked to be excused because of injuries received in a recent automobile accident.

Yesterday's testimony linked Anastasia with the unsolved 1939 murder of a reform-minded longshoreman. Other witnesses revealed how mobsters controlled the waterfront and even dictated to the AFL International Longshoremen's Association.

Also figuring prominently in the testimony was the name of William O'Dwyer, recently resigned U. S. ambassador to Mexico, onetime Kings County district attorney and former mayor of New York City.

One witness yesterday was Edward A. Heffernan, assistant city corporation counsel who was an aide to O'Dwyer when the latter was district attorney in Brooklyn.

Heffernan said he made a six-week study of the Brooklyn waterfront in 1940 which disclosed that gangsters ran the ILA locals there and pocketed dues and other union funds.

Heffernan said he submitted his report after a meeting between O'Dwyer, Joseph P. Ryan, ILA president, and the late Emil Camarda, an ILA vice president.

Heffernan testified that O'Dwyer told him to "close the case."

Asked whether any hoodlum mentioned in his report ever was prosecuted by O'Dwyer's office, Heffernan replied:

"I don't think so."

Elephants walk on their tip toes. The bones of the foot slant abruptly upward from the toenails and there is no bone near the sole, which portion consists of a soft, rubbery mass of flesh.

State Asked To Pay More On Education

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—The Ohio Education Association today considered proposals to get the Legislature to increase the state's share in underwriting the cost of educating Ohio youngsters.

Some 1,000 delegates are attending the organization's three-day annual meeting ending Saturday.

Thursday the association heard its president, A. L. Mattoon of Findlay, say the state would have to pay long-run costs in unemployment compensation, poor relief and maintenance of correctional institutions if it did not assume its share of the responsibility for educating Ohio school children.

He accused the state of pushing an ever-increasing percentage of the cost of education on local taxpayers. He said while local school districts are doubling school taxes, the state's proportionate contribution has shrunk from 48 per cent in 1936 to 38 per cent in 1950.

Carl H. Shanks of Wilmington and W. R. Gongwer of Columbus were nominated without opposition as president and vice presidents of the organization.

Steel For 175,000 Autos, Trucks Promised

WASHINGTON (AP)—Auto makers have been promised enough steel in the first three months of next year to build 175,000 more cars and trucks—probably their full authorization of 1 1/4 million autos and 315,000 trucks.

Officials said this supplemental allotment announced yesterday should be sufficient to avert the shutdown which some industry sources had said might occur.

The Defense Production Administration yesterday earmarked for civilian industry an additional 550,000 tons of steel, of which the auto industry got 353,000 tons. The rest will go to makers of such civilian goods as refrigerators, lawnmowers, farm and garden equipment.

Ohio Short 50,000 Hospital Beds

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ohio is short more than 50,000 of the number of hospital beds needed to provide adequate hospital service.

A report of the joint committee on the economic report said Thursday the state had fewer than half the beds it needed last Jan. 1. Ohio then had 43,758 hospital beds.

Election Law Change Studied

Village Will Choose New Officers Slate

COLUMBIANA—ALL candidates for municipal, township and school district offices, including independent candidates, at the May primaries and the November election will have to file by Wednesday, Feb. 4. No candidates have yet announced in Columbiana village or Fairfield township.

An entire new slate of village elective officials will have to be chosen. Mayor W. A. Thomas, Democrat, elected as an independent in 1951, and Republican Councilmen Walter Miller, Herbert Souder, Raymond Snoko and Arthur Myers are undecided as to whether they will run again, but Democratic Councilmen Charles Fisher and Raymond Spiker have said they will not be candidates.

The clerk and treasurer posts, held by S. Richard Orr, Democrat, and Miss Kathryn Fuhrman, Republican, are usually uncontested.

Under the new law, a candidate for village office in Columbiana, according to information given out by the Columbiana county board of elections, to get his name on the ballot, will have to present a petition containing names amounting to 7 per cent of the votes cast for the party candidate for governor whom he supported at the election last fall.

In townships and school districts a minimum of 25 signatures is required, but in some of these subdivisions a higher number is needed because of the number of votes cast. In Fairfield township, 31 names are needed. In Columbiana exempted school district, including voting precincts in Beaver and Springfield townships, Mahoning county, 27 names are required.

In Fairfield township there will be two trustees to elect, the four-year terms of E. B. McCammon and W. B. Miller expiring a year hence. Hugh Farmer was re-elected a trustee in 1951 for four years. It is understood that McCammon and Miller will seek reelection. The township ballot is non-partisan.

On the non-partisan ballot of Columbiana village exempted school district, there will be three members of the five-member board of education to elect, the four-year terms of Dr. J. R. Moorehead, William Allen and Walter Simpson expiring next year. Allen is one of two members of the board of education appointed to the park board.

JERRY MOLLENKOPF was graduated into scouting at the December meeting of Cub Pack 17, Boy Scouts, at the Presbyterian church, Wednesday evening. Birthdays observed were those of Mollenkopf, Lemoine Chamberlain, Warren Starr and Dean Stark, and dinner stripes were awarded to Larry Snyder and Tommy Hane.

These awards were made: Roger Fritch, two silver arrow points on bear badge; Chamberlain, bear badge and one gold and two silver arrow points. Entertainment consisted of moving pictures.

The planning committee for February, Mrs. John Kyser, Mrs. Verne Wining and Mrs. Oscar Millar will meet at the church Friday evening Jan. 2. The theme for February anniversary month, will be "Blue and Gold."

MRS. F. B. DETWEILER received the Readers Guild at her home, 224 S. Main St., Tuesday evening, with a buffet supper at 7. The program of the evening included a musical reading, "The Happy Prince," by Mrs. Willard Ferrall, accompanied by Mrs. George Herrmann, harpist.

Christmas carols were sung to the accompaniment of the harp, with Mrs. Detweiler at the organ. There was a gift exchange. Mrs. Russell Barber and Mrs. Clara Gilmore were co-hostesses.

Seeks Action To Get GIs Home For Holiday

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. George Bender, Ohio Republican, is asking the Defense Department to step in and make sure overseas servicemen get home by Christmas.

In a statement Thursday, Bender asked the Defense Department to give the servicemen top priority for airplane travel from Korea and Europe.

Bender said he took the action after he received dozens of calls by parents of servicemen complaining their sons' reservations had been cancelled or postponed without advance notice.

Stuck Plate Gives Lodge Mail Flood

Gus Merland, secretary of the Norwood Eagles lodge wondered "how come" Thursday when he found five bags of mail had been delivered to the lodge hall in Norwood.

He first figured a postman had left them there and would be back to pick them up later but when no postman arrived, Gus took a peek and found a copy of the Ohio Tavern News addressed to the lodge. Then he looked some more—there were 2,000 copies of the paper and all were addressed to the Norwood Eagles.

Merland called the paper's office in Columbus and learned an addressograph apparently had stuck on the Norwood Eagles plate to the extent of 2,000 copies.

The Eagles are going to give the papers to the next scrap paper drive put on by Norwood firemen but the unhappy persons of all are employees in the city's post office. They had to wade through all five bags of mail checking addresses and then delivered the whole works to the same place.

Mahoning Farmers Discuss Making Land More Productive

Mahoning County farmers are faced with the problem of making their land and livestock more productive, a group of extension and farm research specialists said yesterday at Canfield.

Meeting with a committee of farmers, staff members from the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station and area farm authorities sat down to discuss common questions in the task of producing more food for Mahoning County's swelling urban population.

This event, first in a series of eight to be held in Ohio, placed emphasis upon local committee planning as a part of statewide policy Experiment Station officials said.

Soil tilth, fertility, farm labor, and unproductive land ranked high among the problems considered which are a part of the program at the Mahoning County Experiment Farm near Canfield. Plans were also made for future research needs that would directly affect crops and farm operations in the area.

County Agent J. C. Hedge thanked county commissioners for their cooperation in farm research, and expressed hope that more farmers would take advantage of help offered them through this means of farm education.

Chairman of the meeting was John D. Bragg, administrative secretary of the Ohio Experiment Station at Wooster. He introduced F. F. Wonderling, superintendent of the state's outlying farms, and Cecil Edwards, manager of the Canfield farm. They described briefly the methods of operation and pointed out that improvements are constantly being made to carry on the local research program.

A. L. Moxon and Earl Klosterman of the Station's animal science department told the group about a project with beef cattle using various breeding plans to gether with effective utilization of grazing and feed lot methods.

F. S. Howlett and Carl Ellenwood of the Station's horticulture department said this area is important to the state's fruit production. Howlett gave detailed plans for establishing a dwarf stock orchard at Canfield whereby three of the Station's new apple varieties, Ruby, Franklin, and Melrose, might be grown more intensively. It is the intention of horticulturists to get farmers to establish more orchards on better sites, Ellenwood said.

Possibilities for a Mahoning County field day next summer were explained by G. A. Hummon, public relations head of the Experiment Station at Wooster.

Farm committee members in attendance were: A. A. Less, Salem; A. W. Lang and F. C. Treffinger, Canfield; Charles Barth and Howard Kohler, Poland; John Cullar, North Lima; and C. A. Malmesberry, Beloit.

Sunday School To Hold Yule Family Party

LEETONIA—The annual Christmas program and family party for members of St. Paul's Lutheran Sunday School will be held in the recreation room Sunday evening at 7:30.

Children of the beginners, primary, intermediate and junior departments will have part in the program. A visit from Santa Claus with a gift for every child will be a feature of the evening. The Priscilla Club and Friendly Class will have charge of the social hour following the program. Mrs. Leonard Warner, Mrs. Harry Ginther and Mrs. Clarence Barnes are in charge of the program.

THE ORDER Sons of Italy will hold a dance at its hall Saturday evening from 10 p.m. to 1 a.m. for members and friends. The proceeds will be used for the children's party, Sunday.

The primary department of the Presbyterian Church will be entertained at a Christmas party at the Church parlors Saturday from 2 to 4 p.m. by their teacher, Miss Ruth Prior.

The Ruth Bible Class of the Methodist Church held its annual Christmas party at the Rebekah Hall Thursday evening. Members of the Rebekah Lodge served the dinner at 6:30.

THE DEBORAH Class of St. Paul's Lutheran Church served a one o'clock luncheon for members of the Ladies Aid Society at the church parlors Thursday.

"OUR" Community Club will entertain their husbands and families at a Christmas party at Midway Grange Hall tonight. A covered dish dinner will be served at 6:30 p.m., followed by a gift exchange.

SIAMESE TWINS SEPARATED—The Brodie Siamese twins, above, are attended by Nurse Margaret Florence at the University of Illinois' Research Hospital in Chicago shortly before the historic operation which separated them. The twins, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Royt Brodie, of East Moline, Ill., were joined at the top of the skull. Rodney Dee, who shared a large vein that drains blood from the brain with his brother, Roger Lee, was given the vein, and remains in good condition. Roger Lee is in critical condition after the 12-hour 40-minute operation, and may not live.

Canadian Freighter Helpless In Pacific

VANCOUVER, B. C. (AP)—Her rudder damaged and buffeted by a heavy wind, the Canadian Pacific Steamship Company freighter Maplecove wallowed helplessly in rough North Pacific waters today.

Help was en route to the 10,000-ton ship which gave a position 1,260 miles off the British Columbia coast. But officials estimated it would take the tug Island Sovereign of Vancouver at least four more days to reach the ship.

The Maplecove radioed for aid yesterday while inbound to Van-cover from Yokohama. The ship's master, Capt. R. A. Leicester, reported the Maplecove was in no immediate danger although it could not be controlled.

A Canadian weather ship stationed 260 miles west of the position given by the Maplecove reported later that winds of 55 to 60 miles an hour were blowing.

Three or four other ships are reported in the Maplecove's vicinity to speed relief should she indicate conditions have become more hazardous.

NEW HOPE FOR NEAR-BLIND — Clear-image lenses, developed by New York optometrist Dr. William Feinbloom, standing, enable this young patient to once more read a newspaper. The thick, specially ground "clear-image" lenses are said to open new vistas of vision to people with only a fraction of normal sight. Dr. Feinbloom estimates that the lenses could benefit at least 150,000 limited-vision persons in the United States alone.

Lorain Editor Fined For Hitting Broadcaster

LORAIN, O. — Judge Leroy Kelly fined the news editor of the Lorain Journal $125 Thursday for hitting a radio broadcaster.

The Municipal Court judge also sentenced Don Miller, 33, to three days in jail but suspended that, putting the editor on probation for six months.

James Cochran, 24, of Elyria-Lorain radio station WEOL brought the assault and battery charge after the Nov. 20 altercation.

Miller, admitting he struck Cochran on the chin once and knocked off the broadcaster's glasses, asserted the announcer "pirated" news from the newspaper.

Judge Kelly refused to hear that contention, saying it would have to be made in a civil action if Miller wanted to bring it. The judge also ruled Miller failed to prove an assertion that he had been entrapped.

Miller contended he was coaxed to the radio station where a wire recording was made of his dispute with Cochran. The recording was not used during the trial.

CANTON MAN ARRESTED
Edwin McQueen, 19, of Canton was arrested by police at 8:55 p.m. Thursday at the rear of the Terminal Tavern on N. Ellsworth Ave. on an assault and battery warrant filed by Lisbon police.

Shopping

Merchants blame a late Thanksgiving for the traffic crush. They say people are trying to cram all of their buying into a shorter time.

San City Parking
In Kansas City the downtown shopping district is so jammed with cars that operators of outlying parking lots are supplying "shuttle-bus" service for their patrons. Philadelphia has banned all parking of passenger cars in the central city area.

Gripes about the help situation are long and loud. A Los Angeles retailer explains: "It's murder."

Macy's New York licked the help problem by interviewing 27,000 applicants for part-time Christmas work. Six thousand were hired. Included were nine Santa Clauses—two more than last year. The big store is experimenting with a self-service top department.

Most retailers agree that the shortage of help stems from current full employment and general prosperity—the same influences that are bringing record crowds of shoppers into the stores. A merchant in Richmond, Va., theorizes that part-time help is hard to get because people have more money in Christmas clubs and don't need the extra work.

Changed buying habits here and there are attributed to the imminent change in the national administration.

Washington department stores say they are having a tough time selling furniture and rugs. They think it's because government jobholders are uncertain about their future.

The Republican victory is credited elsewhere with loosening the purse strings of higher-income shoppers. Indisputably there has been a big gain in Christmas sales in the plushier type of store commonly associated with such famous-name streets as Fifth Avenue in New York or Michigan Boulevard in Chicago.

Reports from other cities: R. C. Dolbin, manager of the Dallas, Tex., retail Merchants Association, figures this year's Christmas sales will hit a new high of more than eight million dollars with men's furnishings, leather goods, hosiery and toys among the leaders.

Boston merchants expect a record Christmas volume if the weather is good for the rest of the shopping season. They report misses and women's wear selling best and home appliances doing well but toy sales down from last year.

Lower prices are luring shoppers into Indianapolis stores, with demand holding up for all classes of merchandise except TV. A record volume appears likely.

Obituary

Mrs. David Regal

Mrs. Florence York Regal, 77, of 1335 N. Oak Extension, Alliance, died suddenly of complications at the home of her step-daughter, Mrs. W. F. Holloway of near Steubenville, Thursday at 8 p.m. She has been in failing health for two years.

She lived in Alliance three years, going there from Youngstown. She was a member of the Sebring Methodist Church.

Born at Boardman Oct. 30, 1875, she was the daughter of Jonathan and Ella Osborn Messerly. Her first husband, Thomas York, died 15 years ago.

She was married in 1942 to David Regal, who survives.

Surviving also are two sons, Melvin A. York of Salem and Clarence M. of Canton; two step-daughters, Mrs. Holloway, at whose home she died, and Mrs. Paul Barth of Columbiana; three step-sons, Paul Regal of RD 4, Salem, Walter of Tucson, Ariz., and Homer of Salem; seven grandchildren, 12 great-grandchildren and 24 step-grandchildren.

Funeral service will be Saturday at 2 p.m. at the Arbaugh-Pearce funeral home in charge of Rev. Russell Mitchell, pastor of the Salem Pilgrim Church. Burial will be at the Canfield North Church Cemetery.

Friends may call at the Arbaugh-Pearce funeral home this evening.

Ridgway Criticizes NATO Budget Cut

PARIS (AP) — Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway criticized members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization today for slowing down their defense effort.

"I reject as unjustified the dangerous view that the potential aggressors don't want war and won't precipitate war," he told the graduating class of NATO's Defense College. "We don't know how long we shall be the Kremlin's target, marked for war."

His criticism came less than 24 hours after ministers of the 14 NATO member nations wound up a meeting in Paris at which they nearly halved—224 million dollars—the amount to be spent for top-priority defense works.

In so doing, they ignored Ridgway's own recommendations. They also failed to approve a military recommendation for a boost in the size of NATO's forces.

Canton Man Fined $25 For Assault, Battery

LISBON—Edwin D. McQueen Jr. of Canton was fined $25 and costs on an assault and battery charge at a hearing Thursday before Mayor Wilbur Warren.

McQueen was arrested by Salem police and returned here on a warrant signed by his mother-in-law, Mrs. Jane Stewart of Lisbon. He was taken to Mahoning County jail in lieu of payment of his fine.

School Board Confers On '53 School Funds

Members of the Salem Board of Education and the Columbiana County Budget Commission discussed the board's 1953 budget estimate of $688,795 at a meeting this morning in the county auditor's office in the Lisbon Courthouse.

The 1953 figure is an increase of $86,945 over the budget of $601,850 approved for 1952.

Damascus

Young Adult Class of the Damascus Methodist Church held a Christmas party in the church Tuesday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wulf and Mr. and Mrs. William Hoskins hosts.

Dean Barber presided when officers were elected. Games and contests were enjoyed with prizes being awarded Robert Knoedler and Morlan Hole. Movies were shown by Lee Bennett.

The group was seated at a long table using a red and white color scheme with a miniature musical church for the centerpiece and red tapers at either end, and individual favors, with 25 present, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wilkinson and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Chepke were guests.

Officers elected are: President, Carl Hans; vice president, Wade Bromall; secretary, Mrs. Morlan Hole; treasurer, Mrs. Robert Knoedler.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Buttermore Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hans will entertain the group Jan. 19 in the church social room. An old-fashioned box social will be a feature.

A primary class of the Friends' Church was entertained by the teacher, Mrs. Floyd Courtney, Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Merle Shreve, who took their son, Pvt. Donald Shreve, to Camp Stoneman, Calif., arrived home Tuesday. They visited their son-in-law and daughter, Rev. and Mrs. Walter Jeffries in Zanesville recently. Pvt. Shreve sailed for overseas Dec. 9.

Garfield Grange business meeting and Christmas party will be held in the hall Dec. 23 with an exchange of gifts.

Heart Attack Kills Woman During Fire

RICHWOOD, O. — Fire swept through the third floor of the 22-room Villa Hotel in this Union County village today and the owner died of a heart attack.

Mrs. Anna Allgower, 77, succumbed in the excitement of dressing to leave the building. She was carried from her first-floor room.

Richwood firemen confined the fire to the third floor but the first and second floors suffered heavy water damage. Mrs. Allgower's late husband built the hotel in 1903.

Thomas Finch, assistant state fire marshal, said he planned to question a Columbus man who checked out just before the fire was discovered at 6 a.m. The fire, said Finch, apparently started in the man's bed.

Two Men Arrested After Road Mishaps

Two drivers were arrested as the result of the two traffic mishaps investigated by Salem State Highway Patrolmen Thursday.

Cars driven by Lawrence Wing, 25, of Steubenville and William Hampton, 35, of Cleveland collided at 12:50 p.m. on Route 30, two miles east of Lisbon.

Hampton was cited by patrolmen for reckless operation and driving a vehicle without an operator's license and fined a total of $150 and costs by Mayor Wilbur Warren of Lisbon.

Robert J. Hudson, 22, of Industry, Pa. was cited by patrolmen for improper backing following a collision between his car and one operated by Raymond Horner Jr. on a county road north of East Liverpool at 8:45 p.m.

Motorist Fined $20 After Route 45 Mishap

LISBON—Russell J. Gabriel, 36, of Lisbon was fined $20 and costs on a reckless driving charge at a hearing Thursday before Mayor Wilbur Warren as an aftermath of an accident Wednesday night on Route 45 near Lisbon.

The State Highway Patrol at Salem cited Gabriel as the driver of a car which crashed into the rear of a truck. Gabriel and three other passengers in his car were injured.

dent, who was chosen secretary of labor.

Like Anderson, Mrs. Hobby supported Eisenhower in the campaign. Durkin supported Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois, the Democratic presidential candidate.

The new appointments were announced as Eisenhower faced a politically explosive decision in coping with inflation.

The decision confronting him is whether to ask the new Republican-ruled Congress to extend controls authority, scheduled to expire April 30, or let the program die and try to restrain inflation by other methods.

Eisenhower may outline to Congress personally the course he decides upon.

May Go Before Congress
Rep. Joseph W. Martin Jr. of Massachusetts, the prospective speaker of the House, said after a conference with Eisenhower yesterday that the President-elect is considering whether to go before Congress and set forth his legislative program after he takes office Jan. 20.

Sitting in with Eisenhower and Martin were Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, in line to be majority floor leader, and Rep. Leslie C. Arends of Illinois, who probably will be assistant leader.

Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio and other Senate GOP leaders will get together with Eisenhower soon for a similar conference on the legislative program being drafted by the new administration.

After the House group's meeting with the general, Halleck told a news conference the Truman administration "has just about destroyed the whole program of stabilization."

Agreeing, Martin said the outgoing Democratic regime has the program "on the ground gasping for breath."

The situation was underscored, Halleck said, by Truman's approval of the $1.90 wage increase for coal miners. That action brought on the protest resignation of industry members of the Wage Stabilization Board.

Martin said he and his House colleagues discussed in a general way with Eisenhower what to do about wage-price controls, but reached no decision.

Eisenhower aides said the matter is being given much study because of the economic consequences in the picture.

With defense spending certain to remain high, the new administration is taking a cautious approach to the idea of letting wage-price control authority expire.

Spiraling prices and uncontrolled wages could put the Republicans on a political spot they want to avoid. And the Democrats under Truman appear determined to keep the controls program in operation until Jan. 20, when the opposition party will inherit the responsibility for a decision on what to do next.

Martin stressed that regardless of whether controls are kept, the Republicans are going to wage a big drive to cut federal spending. That was one of the steps Eisenhower would help curb inflation.

A GOP aim, said Martin, is to "cut some of the extravagance and reckless spending" of which he accused the Truman administration.

He said he wasn't precluding the possibility of a tax reduction, too, but he added that the first business at hand was to reduce spending.

Ohio U. President Named Bank Director

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Reserve Board today announced appointment of John C. Baker, president of Ohio University at Athens, O., to be director of the Cincinnati branch of the Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland.

Baker will fill out the term of Ernest H. Hahne, president of Miami University at Oxford, O., who died recently. The term expires Dec. 31, 1954.

Will Hold Yule Party

Members and children of the Ladies Catholic Benevolent Association will have a Christmas party and gift exchange at the Knights of Columbus rooms Sunday at 2:30 p.m. Santa will distribute treats to the children.

Green Goddess

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—There is a small green goddess who has come to our house to stay—and she lives in my wife's bathroom.

I call the little bronze statue, corroded by the centuries, "Miss Far East of 1660." Frances prefers to refer to her as "that jug-head." And I think she regards her as a rival.

The statue, which is about a foot tall, once rested in the window of an antiques shop in Seoul, the South Korean capital. I fell in love with her at first sight, for on her faded gold leaf face was the look of a heavily-lidded Oriental Mona Lisa.

Every day on the ride up to the front I would pause and look at her. One day, as the Chinese Reds were massing to engulf the city, I saw the antiques dealer was closing his store and preparing to flee South.

I entered and asked him the price of the statue. He said I could have her for about 24,000 Korean dollars. Well, as that was only eight U. S. bucks — I'd buy the Brooklyn bridge at that price—I took her.

"Who is she?" I inquired as he wrapped her.

"The goddess of pity," he said. A few nights later the goddess and I fled flaming Seoul together, and a month after that we were in America. When I tenderly unwrapped her with my other souvenirs, Frances said:

"Goddess of pity nothing! I think she's horribly ugly. And see how moldy green she is. She looks more like the goddess of jealousy."

Well, I put her on public view anyway on a bookshelf in "the brown study," a room which started out to be my den and is now the place where Frances likes to do her sewing. And most of our friends loyally agreed with Frances: "Goddess or not, she's downright homely."

Then one night during a party a friend said, "You know the way your little goddess has her hand cupped. . . I think she was meant to be holding a candle in it."

So we pared down a table candle, fitted it in the tiny curved palm, and lit it.

"Now let's turn out all the other lights," said our friend.

We did—and in the semi-darkness my goddess of pity came instantly alive. She sat there with one hand lifted in a gesture of eternal mercy, and the soft candlelight flickered on a face of mysterious beauty. That was the way she had been meant to be seen—glowing through the dusk of a vanished Oriental temple, worshipped to the music of hidden gongs.

The guests were fascinated. But the next day the little green statue was gone from the bookshelf. When I asked Frances, "Where's my goddess?" she replied:

"Oh, she was out of place there. I put her on the window shelf behind the door in my bathroom. You don't want to stare at a creepy thing like that all the time, do you?"

I looked at her and laughed, and Frances said sharply:

"Look, Rover, if you think I'm jealous of that silly jugheaded statue, you're crazy. I told you she just doesn't fit into this room!"

But it doesn't help at all when our guests say on arrival now, "Let's bring in that goddess and turn out the lights and look at her. Why do you keep such a wonderful showpiece in the bathroom, Frances?"

Official's Wife Appeals Drunk Driving Conviction

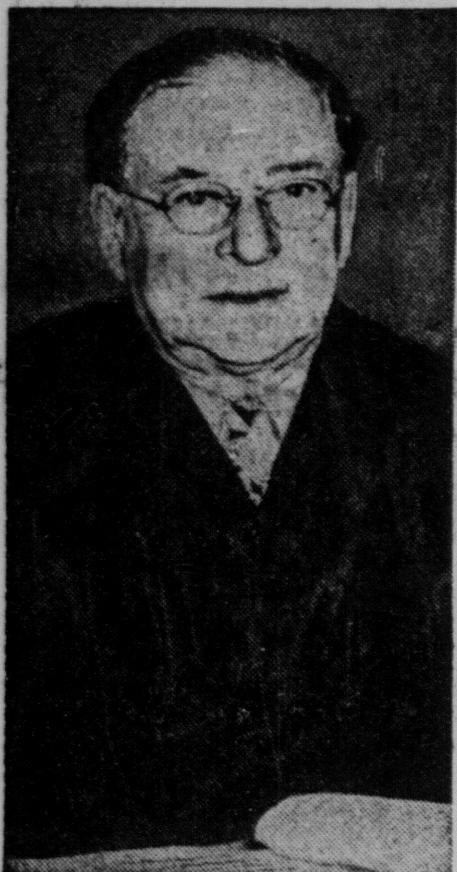

ARLINGTON, Va. (AP)—The wife of a State Department official has appealed her conviction on a drunken driving charge, automatically halting a three-hour jail sentence and $150 fine.

The jail term originally was 30 days but Arlington County Court Judge Paul D. Brown suspended all but three hours. He told Mrs. Foy D. Kohler he wanted her to see "the inside of a jail."

Witnesses testified Mrs. Kohler and her husband, a State Department policy planner, appeared intoxicated when their car knocked down a telephone pole early Dec. 6. The couple said they were en route home from a party.

The State Department said Kohler had with him at the time, in violation of security rules, a brief case containing secret documents. It was turned over to a department security officer.

Kohler paid an $8.25 fine on a charge of public intoxication. Bond of $500 was posted for Mrs. Kohler yesterday. A hearing on her appeal is scheduled two months hence.

TEN TO ONE—Judge Joseph Sabath, above, noted Chicago jurist, takes pride in the 10,000 marriages he has saved, by reconciling estranged couples, during his 42 years on the bench. On the gloomy side of the picture, the retiring jurist estimates that it has been his duty to sign 100,000 divorce decrees during the same period.

To Study Taft Law Changes

GOP Legislators Set Hearings In February

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hearings aimed at redrafting the Taft-Hartley labor law have been set as one of the first major pieces of business by the new Republican house.

Rep. McConnell (R-Pa.) due to become chairman of the House Labor Committee, said today the whole field of labor-management relations would be reviewed by his committee at sessions tentatively set to start early in February.

"From that I hope we can evolve a bill," he told a reporter.

"If the Taft-Hartley law can be patched up and worked out — all right. If not, a whole new bill may have to be written."

Although McConnell has not taken a public position, his dissatisfaction with Taft-Hartley as the nation's basic labor law is widely recognized on Capitol Hill.

He is understood to feel that Taft-Hartley is too complex, not easily understood by either labor or management, and a symbol of unnecessary controversy which the Republicans would do well to erase. The GOP platform endorsed the law, but called for any changes shown by experience to be needed. The platform didn't spell them out.

Across the Capitol, Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) is for retaining the law which bears his name. Any effort to bring out a wholly new law seems certain to stir up the powerful opposition of the Ohio senator.

Taft does favor changes in Taft-Hartley and already plans to introduce in the Senate again most of the 28 amendments passed in 1949 but which died in a hostile House.

McConnell's views on a labor law are likely to prevail in the House Labor Committee, where he commands the respect of Southern Democrats as well as Republicans.

"I'd like to have a simple law, understandable to the man on the street and one which both labor and industry can live with," he said.

Asserting he had no dispute with Taft, McConnell said, "I can only judge by what people say to me."

"I have been given to understand Taft-Hartley can be much simplified, and I don't know if it can be amended satisfactorily or not. It's the basic principles that we are concerned with, not the wording."

While McConnell has not disclosed what specific changes he would make in the law, Taft has a program.

Two of the changes planned by Taft have been endorsed by Eisenhower: (1) a requirement for company as well as union officials to take non-Communist oaths, and (2) removal of the ban against voting in a union representation election by strikers who have been replaced on the job.

Witness In Walters Trial Termed Red

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — A chief witness against U. S. Pvt. Eugene Walters was assailed by the defense today as a Communist propagandist who could not be believed under oath.

Walters, from Harrod, O., is on trial accused of desertion, robbery and of an indecent assault on 18-year-old Mamie Ruth Shelton, of Hot Springs, Va. He has pleaded innocent.

Pvt. John J. Shedsosky, of Clifton, N. J., a convicted deserter, testified Thursday Walters had bragged about these crimes while the two were confined in a Russian military prison in East Germany. Three witnesses who knew Shedsosky in a U. S. Army guardhouse were presented by the defense today to impeach Shedsosky's credibility.

Pvt. Bunnis D. Perkins, of Phoenix, Ariz., testified Shedsosky told fellow prisoners "that he was a Communist. He said he'd rather be a Communist than in the U. S. Army." He claimed Shedsosky "kept telling other prisoners how much better it was in the Russian Zone and advised them to go over there."

Shedsosky denied on the witness stand Thursday he was a Communist.

Sgt. Jesse R. Adams, of Melville, La., a guard, supported Perkins' testimony and said "I wouldn't believe anything Shedsosky said. I wouldn't believe him under oath."

Pfc. Edward Oken of New York City, testified Shedsosky read about Walters' alleged crimes in a newspaper before he told interrogators Walters had confessed these crimes in a Russian prison. Shedsosky denied this Thursday.

Walters and Shedsosky were arrested by the Russians after entering the Soviet Zone of Germany. They returned voluntarily after the Russians released them.

Youth, 17, Enlists 3rd Time In U. S. Marines

READING, Pa. (AP) — The in-again-out-again boy of the Marine Corps 17-year-old William H. Houston, is in again today.

Houston, whose father Marine Maj. John Lester Houston, was killed at Iwo Jima in 1943, enlisted in Jacksonville, Fla., when he was 15.

He had almost completed boot training at Parris Island, S. C. when his age was discovered and he was discharged. Not to be discouraged, Houston enlisted again at Reading when he was 16.

"You here again?" they asked at Parris Island as they gave the lad his second honorable discharge. During his present enlistment Houston told Sgt. Norman Pershing he was 17. The sergeant asked "You're not kidding now? Houston assured him he was serious. He heads for Parris Island again in a few days.

Ellis Ryan Gives Up Tribe Presidency Under Fire

Myron H. Wilson Takes Over Job

Greenberg Will Have Freer Hand With Club

CLEVELAND (U)—Myron H. Wilson, an "average fan" with a few shares of baseball stock but no management experience in professional sports, took over today as president of the Cleveland Indians.

Ellis Ryan quit the job under fire Thursday and Wilson's first act as new chief was to strengthen the hand of Hank Greenberg by expressing "utmost confidence" in the general manager.

Wilson, saying he would continue his insurance business, indicated a freer hand for Greenberg by pointing out he would not make the presidency a full-time job.

"I don't know much about picking ball players or even trading them," he added, "that's Hank's department."

Greenberg's differences with Ryan on operational policies had been a factor in the dispute leading to Ryan's departure, although the former home run slugger never took part in the front-office squabble.

Wilson—who is 65 years old—has never met Tribe field boss Al Lopez and describes himself as just a "little stockholder begging for tickets to come and see a game." He estimates he saw only 12 to 15 tilts yearly.

Although among the anti-Ryan group in the present controversy, Wilson was a friend of Ryan and was in the syndicate fronted by Ryan which bought the club from Bill Veeck three years ago. Ryan sold out his insurance business then.

The dispute leading to Wilson's election broke into the open two weeks ago at the major league meeting at Phoenix, Ariz. Details never have been made public but Ryan was criticized for advocating purchase of the Indianapolis team in the American Association. Indianapolis lost money last year.

Ryan, admitting the squabble, decided to make a fight of it. But Thursday he could win no more than a temporary stalemate at a special stockholders' meeting and resigned.

As the meeting got under way, Wilson was elected a director, replacing Loring Gelbach, a banker who wanted to quit.

A tally then showed the anti-Ryan faction had 1,526 shares to the 1,464 held by Ryan and his backers. That was not enough to tip the even split between the club's 12 directors and left Ryan still in the chair.

But it did show Ryan's opponents had enough shares to change the bylaws in January at the annual meeting, providing for an additional director who could then have been counted on to help oust Ryan.

After that Ryan held out only long enough to make sure his successor would be Wilson.

Ryan issued a statement saying "an understanding was reached calling for the purchase by six principal stockholders of the stock (about 1,300 shares) owned by the so-called Ryan group."

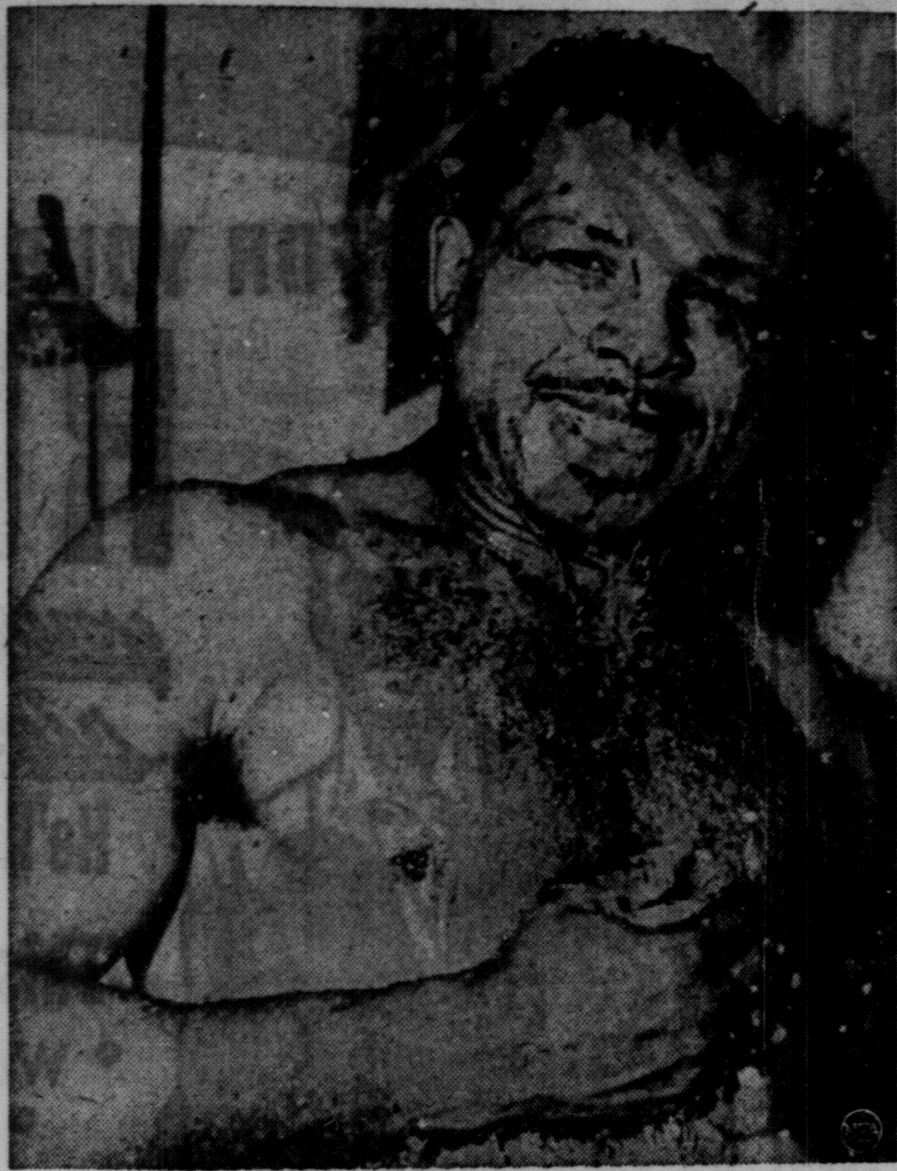

Besides George A. Medinger, the buyers include Nate Dolin, Don Hornbeck, Harry Small, M. A. Baxter and C. M. Baxter.

The six sellers would be Ryan, B. F. Berner, J. H. Broderick, Dave R. Jones, Guy Waters and Jack B. John.

Seixas, Trabert Shine As Tennis Doubles Team

SYDNEY, Australia (U)—Considering they were playing together for the first time, Vic Seixas of Philadelphia and Tony Trabert of Cincinnati looked like a remarkably promising doubles team today in crushing the veteran Italian pair of Gianni Cuculli and Marcello Del Bello in clinching victory for the U. S. in the Davis tennis cup interzone final.

As the scores of 6-4, 6-3, 6-2 indicate the green American team got progressively sharper as the match went on. Their teamwork was poor in the opening set, but towards the last they were sweeping their befuddled opponents off the court.

NEW CHAMP CLEANS UP—Smiling broadly as he takes a shower, Archie Moore, the new light heavyweight champion of the world, cleans up shortly after cleaning up on former champ Joey Maxim. Moore won a unanimous decision in the 15-round title fight at St. Louis.

Salem Will Have Height Edge Over Canton Team Saturday

Continuing their hunt for victories, the steadily improving Salem Quakers travel to Canton Saturday night to engage Canton Central Catholic. The first game starts at 7:30 p.m.

Enjoying a slight height advantage, the Quakers will be out to avenge last year's thriller in which Central edged Salem, 56-55, in the last minute of play.

Coached by Del Halpin, the triple "c" outfit employs a figure "8" offense and a zone defense. So far this season, Canton has split four games, winning a pair of overtime battles from Youngstown East and Cleveland Benedictine, while faltering before Wellsville and Minerva.

Wellsville trampled Salem, 14-4, at the East Liverpool preview in an abbreviated six-minute game, while Central lost to the Bengals by 12 points. Although too much cannot be determined from previews, it is somewhat of an indication of the relative strength of the two teams.

Pacing the attack will be Jack Taul, 6-foot, one-inch forward. Taul, a senior, is the leading scorer followed by Bob Piero, diminutive guard.

Piero, only a five-foot eight-inch sophomore, is the surprise of the season for Coach Halpin.

The center, who will be remembered from last year's game is Junior Petro six-foot junior. The other forward is another six-footer, Mike Rotunno, senior letterman.

The fifth starter is expected to be tiny Jim Bowen, five-foot eight-inch junior guard.

Two more men slated to see action are Leroy Nist, six-foot senior and Ray Williams, a five-foot six-inch junior.

The Quakers, playing their third out-of-town game of the season, will probably start the same lineup to be used in tonight's tilt with New Castle, Pa.

Opening at guard positions will be Jack Gottschling and Bill Buckman. Jack Alexander will be the center, with Larry Stoffer and Ed Votaw at the forwards.

Coach Johny Cabas promises that if successful in tonight's game, Salem's pressing defense will be used against Central.

Christmas vacation starts tonight at the High School, marking the beginning of a busy period for Coach Cabas and his cagers.

Next Tuesday, Dec. 23, the Quakers battle Sebring at Sebring, Cleveland West invades the local gym on Friday, Dec. 26.

The annual alumni tilt Tuesday, Dec. 30, will round out basketball activities for this year.

Sugar Ray Announces Retirement; Elimination For Crown Planned

NEW YORK (U)—With Sugar Ray Robinson retired—positively—the next step is an elimination tournament to set up a new middleweight champion.

Already the wheels are turning for an international tournament involving all the top contenders. For once, the National Boxing Association and New York State Athletic Commission seem to be in agreement.

Robinson took a backhanded slap at the New York commission yesterday when he released his "complete and unequivocal retirement through Abe Greene of Paterson, N. J., commissioner of the NBA. New York stripped him of his title Dec. 4 for not defending within the six-month limit.

Greene's announcement said Robinson selected the NBA as the medium for his official retirement because it represents the majority of the boxing commissions of the world and because it has been extremely helpful to him.

George Barton, NBA president, told Greene by telephone from his St. Paul office that the American title should be cleared up at once by a contest between Bobo Olson, ranking challenger, and Ernie Durando, Paddy Young and Rocky Castellani as runners up, the survivor to meet the winner of a Randy Turpin-Charles Humez bout in Europe. The NBA favors speedy action with no more than 90 days between bouts.

Bob Christenberry, New York chairman, also was making plans for a tournament by reviewing the outstanding contenders.

"Turpin is No. 1 on everybody's list," said Christenberry. "and Olson is the outstanding contender. Then there are Humez, Durando, Young, Castellani, Walter Cartier and perhaps some others."

Jim Norris, president of the IBC, announced Dec. 10 plans to hold a tournament. In addition to the names Christenberry mentioned Norris may include the winner of tonight's Billy Graham-Joe Giar-dello bout. Graham, although a 148-pound "middleweight," wants to mingle with the heavier boys.

Tony said his hand was being forced, but he'd not accept any "bargain basement offer."

Robinson said he was retiring because "at this stage of my career I don't feel I can give my followers the best I have. I don't want to let them down." In his last fight, June 25, he collapsed in the 103-degree heat, a 14th-round TKO victim of Joey Maxim in a bid for a third title.

Robinson's future is set. He owns a beer and ale distributing agency, a bar and grill, a lingerie shop, a barbershop, cleaning establishment and a real estate office in Harlem. He started a career as a night club entertainer Nov. 8 and is booked for a long tour that will take him to Detroit, Chicago, Las Vegas and Miami Beach after the holidays.

One of the all time greats of the sport, the 32-year-old former welterweight and middleweight king lost only three of 137 pro fights.

Coach Jess Hill of USC is readying his lineups so there will be at least 17 members for duty on both offense and defense. He hopes to keep fresh men in the going from start to finish.

Special attention is being given right now by end Coach Bill Fisk to the men who will be required to cover the Badgers on the so-called flare-out and swing-back maneuvers to either side. Wisconsin backs Harland Carl and Jerry Witt flank right or left or are flanked simultaneously, from which positions they scatter to take quick passes from Jim Hulska.

The first radio broadcast of a Michigan State football game was in 1923 from a phone booth anchored atop Macklin Field Stadium.

Over in London, promoter Jack Selmons has been talking of a June 9 Turpin-Robinson bout on the word of George Gainford, Sugar Ray's manager.

Robinson explained some of the reasons for the confusion surrounding his retirement plans. Ever since last August when he underwent a minor operation on his nose and had scar tissue removed from around his eyes, there have been stories that Ray never would fight again. Gainford has continued to make stout denials.

After the New York commission vacated the title, Gainford wrote a letter disclosing plans for a Robinson-Turpin fight in Europe. The commission agreed to review the case if Gainford presented documentary evidence.

"A lot of very big people, and I mean very big people in boxing, put a lot of pressure on me to go through with the Turpin match," said Robinson. "But I felt I should have made this announcement long before. Finally I made up my mind all of a sudden. I don't want to be like a lot of others who didn't retire in time."

Olson Punches Out Decision Over Hayes

SAN FRANCISCO (U)—Swift-punching Carl (Bobo) Olson, smashing his way toward the middleweight boxing title vacated by Sugar Ray Robinson, has cleared another hurdle toward that goal.

He pounded out a convincing 10 round decision Thursday night over formidable Norman Hayes of Boston in a slam-bang battle. There were no knockdowns.

The Honolulu-born Olson, this country's No. 1 contender for the crown, received the unanimous decision of two judges and the referee.

Graham, beaten twice in welter title bids, wants to mingle with the middles although he only weighs 148 pounds. Giardello, the Philadelphia speedster, is a legitimate ninth-ranked middleweight.

The Garden 10-round scheduled for 10 p. m. EST, will be carried on network radio (ABC) and television (NBC).

Graham badly needs a win to regain prestige lost when he was upset by Giardello at Brooklyn, Aug. 4 and soundly whipped by Gavilan in a Havana title bout, Oct. 5.

Lopez Predicts Big 3 To Win 60 During 1953

NEW YORK (U)—Al Lopez, manager of the Cleveland Indians, predicts his big three, Early Wynn, Bob Lemon and Mike Garcia again will win at least 60 games next season. The trio won 67 and lost 34 last season.

"Some people figure Garcia, Lemon and Wynn were overworked last season," said Lopez. "True, they pitched every third day but that did not hurt their arms. They are strong and built for work. They're still comparatively young. Garcia is only 29 and Wynn and Lemon are only 32."

Rams, Lions May Have To Use Cage Shoes In Sunday's Game

DETROIT (AP)—The Los Angeles Rams drilled today on the frozen turf of Briggs Stadium for the first time. And the feeling grew that all players may have to wear rubber-soled basketball shoes in order to maneuver in Sunday's big pro football game.

Coch Coach Buddy Parker said his Detroit Lions would shun regular cleated football shoes and use the sneakers if the ground stayed hard in this sub-freezing weather.

Coch Coach Hampton Pool shook the shivers out of his bones today and put his warm-weather Rams through a drill—maybe their only one before the game. If the Lions wear basketball shoes the Rams will too.

The Rams, an even choice or at the most a one-point underdog in the tie-breaking National Conference playoff, hadn't had it so cold since Nov. 16.

"We're not concerned about the weather. Whatever it is Sunday is good enough for us," said Pool, who flew in here Thursday night after his Rams had spent four straight weeks in milder California.

Both the Rams and Lions are handicapped by two injuries.

The Rams don't expect Dick Lane, holder of the league pass interception record, to play. Another defensive ace, Herb Rich, may recover from a smashed toe by Sunday.

Thus weakened, Pool was going ahead with plans to use Elroy Hirsch, star offensive end, at a defensive halfback spot to help stop Lion end Cloyce Box, who has caught nine touchdowns passes in the last three games and 15 this season.

The Lions will be without halfback Jug Girard, their No. 1 replacement at both sides. Girard said Thursday he wouldn't be ready to play Dec. 28 in event the Lions win and go to Cleveland.

Defensive end Sherwin Gandee is out because of a bone chip.

The game will be nationally televised in Michigan and Toledo, O., it was scheduled to be blacked out in case of a sellout, the blackout will likely be lifted.

Volts Won't Miss Kozar Too Much

Gen. Neyland Counts On Byrd In Bowl Tilt

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Tennessee's Gen. Bob Neyland was asked what effect, if any, the loss of fullback Andy Kozar would have on the Vols against Texas in the Cotton Bowl football game.

"We won't miss Kozar too much," Neyland told an Atlanta sports writer. "Kozar was a great football player at times, but he also had his bad days. We still have Ray Byrd at fullback."

Kozar, Tennessee's leading scorer and ground gainer, is recuperating from a pelvis injury suffered in mid-November.

Byrd, 190-pound junior from Knoxville, shared with freshman Ted Schwanger, 210-pounder from Sandusky, O., the role of understudy to Kozar.

Byrd carried the ball 75 times for 315 yards and a 4.2-yard average; Schwanger netted 244 yards in 54 tries for a 4.5-yard average.

Schwanger is a powerful runner, but he has lots to learn about the spins, handoffs and faking required of a fullback in Tennessee's single wing system.

Clarence C. Landwert, whose residence is unknown, and cannot be ascertained will take notice that Milford E. Landwert, Administrator of the Estate of John Henry Landwert, deceased, on the 18th day of November 1952, filed his petition in the Probate Court of the County of Columbiana, and State of Ohio, alleging that the personal estate of said decedent is insufficient to pay his debts and charges of administration; that he died seized in fee simple of the following described real estate situated in said county to-wit:

Situated in the City of Salem County of Columbiana and State of Ohio, known as and being part of Lot No. 3 in the Assessed Addition of the City of Salem, Ohio, Beginning at a point on the North line of Cleveland Street (formerly Green) which point is 228 feet West Southwest corner of Lot No. 3 in A. Casselberry's Addition to the City of Salem, thence North and parallel with the West line of said Lot No. 3 160 feet more or less to a point being South 175 feet from Third Street (formerly High); thence West 40 feet but parallel to Cleveland Street, thence South 180 feet parallel to Cleveland Street, but to North line of Cleveland Street; thence East 40 feet but to place of beginning, being the same premises conveyed by James Landte to John Henry Landwert by Quit Claim Deed May 20, 1920, and recorded in Volume 434 at Page 57 of the Columbiana County Deed Records.

That Adda Rose Landwert as widow of said decedent is entitled to dower in said premises; and that the heirs at law of said decedent, Clarence C. Landwert, Ralph H. Landwert, Alfred L. Landwert, Hazel Westor, Orville C. Landwert, Clarence C. Landwert, Edward Landwert.

The prayer of said petition is for sale of said premises, for the payment of debts and charges against said estate, and for the appointment of a receiver to take possession of said premises and to sell the same in accordance with the provisions of said petition.

Notice is hereby given in compliance with Section 5906, General Code, that the real property tax returns of Columbiana County, for the tax year 1952 have been reviewed in compliance with the recommendations and orders of the Board of Tax Appeals of the Department of Taxation of Ohio, to conform with the provisions of House Bill 84 enacted by the 98th General Assembly relating to the equalization of assessed values of real property, and that the valuations are completed and are open for public inspection at the office of the County Auditor in the Court House at Lisbon, Ohio.

Complaints against any valuation or assessment, except the valuations fixed and assessments made by the tax commissioner of Ohio, will be heard by the county board of revision, at 10 a. m. or after December 8, 1952, 1952. Complaints must be made in writing, on blanks furnished by the county auditor and filed in his office on or before the time limited for payment of taxes for the first half year, or at any time during which taxes are received by the county treasurer, without penalty for the first half year.
